Beaver & Gephart

Bellefonte Republican.

VOL. XXII. BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 28, 1890. NO 35.

Established in 1869.} "Let us see to it that a Government, of the People, for the People, and by the People, shall not perish from the Earth."---A. LINCOLN. Terms: $1 50 per Yea

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.
Corespondents should write upon but one side of the paper, and avoid the use of pale or fancy inks.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET,

For Assembly,
G. G. MATTERN, of Patton township.
C. T. FRYBERGER, of Philipsburg.
For Sheriff,
JOHN A. WOLFE, of Philipsburg.
For Treasurer,
E. TYSON, of Philipsburg.
For Recorder,
JOHN F. HARTER, of Millheim.
For Register,
GEORGE W. FISHER, of Halfmoon.
For Commissioners,
J. B. STROHM, of Potter township.
D. B. KUNES, of Liberty township.
For Auditors.
SAMUEL T. GRAY, of Patton twp.
W. B. KRAPE, of Spring Mills.

AFTER the November election the democaats will find that that "same old coon (Kune)" has got there again.

GET registered on or before September 3, if you want to vote this fall.

OHIO takes the fourth place among the States by yielding the third to Illinois. New York is first, Pennsylvania second. If the future should depend on Chicago, everybody else would do well to look out.

THE Globe-Democrat thinks the New York Central strike has destroyed Mr. Depew's chances of ever getting the Presidential nomination. That may be, but this is a country of great uncertainties. Look at Mr. Blaine, for instance.

THE worst of the troubles in the Argentine affairs are over, and the Republic is not smashed entirely. Things there are on the mend, and, for the time being at least, confidence has been restored. England received an instructive alarm, and shouldered an immense weight of obligations.

THE burning of 25,000 barrels of Bourbon whisky in Louisville last week was a spirited event, almost without parallel. the loss being nearly three-quarters of a million dollars. But Kentucky is so strongly Democratic she can stand it, although the loss is so nearly related to her majorities.

Will Open September 10.

The schools of the Bellefonte Academy will open on Wednesday, September 10th, in the rooms over the Centre county bank. Ample provision will be made for all the departments of the school—primary, intermediate and higher. A card, with fuller details, will be published later.

NEXT year the Grand Army of the Republic Encampment will be at Detroit, pursuant to an arrangement by which the West is to have the Encampment for three successive years—at Topeka in 1892, and at Chicago in 1893—while the East is to have the principal offices of the organization for the same period.

GEN. BUTLER is growing candid and truthful. He admits that he was not a great soldier. He was an enterprising leader, lacking the qualities of a true soldier—a man of ideas that often failed for lack of military knowledge and methods. It is probably true that no one realizes this more keenly than Butler himself. He was a great performer without the true actor's genius.

GOVERNOR AMES, of Massachusetts has just returned from Europe, to warmly commend "Mr. Blaine's policy." Says he: "I agree with the Hale amendment, which authorizes the President to open American countries which will accord equal privileges to us. This undoubtedly will be a great thing for American trade. if the South American countries would respond by trading with us, and and I see no reason why they should not."

SOME enterprising Democrat, who believes in his party and its principles ought to present Governor Patt son with a placard something like this :—

* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *
* I AM A DEMOCRAT. *
* * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * *

It would probably require a little persuasion to get the esteemed candidate of the Democratic party to wear it, but Democrats won't know where to find him if something of the kind isn't done.—Press.

NOT A FACTOR THIS YEAR.

The Third Party Prohibitionists have gone through their performance of nominating a State ticket and adopting a platform. As a matter of course, they have made prohibition the dominating issue, and, regardless of the fact that constitutional prohibition was beaten in this State a little more than a year ago by 188,000, they are still demanding it as the only thing that will satisfy them. That cannot be made a live issue at this time, nor one likely to attract any considerable number of voters.

The record of the Third Party Prohibition vote shows that it has been influenced by special causes. It amounted to nothing in Pennsylvania till 1875 when the Prohibition ticket received 13,244: That was due to a feeling created by the repeal of the local option law, and it had wholly subsided by the next year, when the vote fell back to 1381, It struggled along in this way, the agitation growing from year to year, and succeeding in some of the Western States, but there was never much of showing in Pennsylvania until 1884 when the number of Prohibition votes reached 15,737, and about the same figure again in 1885. This increase did not affect the Republican majorities, for, they were never so large at similar elections as in both these years.

In 1886, although the Republican party had pledged itself in its platform to submit a prohibitory Constitutional amendment, the Third Party vote amounted to 32,422. A part of this was doubtless given from other than prohibition motives, as Mr. Wolfe was the candidate that year. This large vote—more than double that ever given before—had no effect upon the Republican majority, which was within a few hundred of that of the previous year. The Republican Legislature of 1887 not only passed a joint resolution for the submission of the promised Constitutional amendment, but it enacted a high license law which went into effect at once. The Prohibition vote fell that year to 18,471, and the Republican majority in the State was just about what it had been the year before.

At the Presidential election of 1888 the Prohibition vote was 20,947 and the Republican majority very nearly the same as at the immediately preceeding Presidential election. Last year with the disappointment of the prohibitory amendment failure still fresh, the Prohibition vote reached but 22,401, and the Republican majority was larger than before for an off year. These figures show not only that special causes affect the Third Party vote, but that it has no influence upon the Republican majority. That has been steadily increasing, and turns up securely whether the Prohibition vote is 15,000 or 30,000.

There are no special causes to aid the Third Party this year. There is nothing left of the disappointment produced by the defeat of the prohibitory amendment, and the people of the State have decisively indicated their approval of the high license policy of dealing with the liquor question. If it were possible for the Prohibition party to increase its vote to any extent it would draw quite as much, if not more, from the Democrats as from Republicans. There is no issue now to support such an organization; it will not be a factor in the campaign.

A VICTORY FOR QUAY.

Senator Quay has won with remarkable ease at Washington. His key has unlocked the situation, and Senator Hoar has a sad waste of fiery oratory to regret. We did not expect such a complete and speedy acceptance of Mr. Quay's remedy by the Republican party in the Senate, although, as we have said over and over again, we regarded it as the only efficacious medicine in sight. Now the country can rest in the assurance that the tariff bill will be a law in a very little while, and that all the really needful legislation will be enacted before Congress rises. For this it is only fair to say Mr. Quay deserves the praise. The situation must be intensely satisfactory to him, if only as a complete annihilation of his enemies' prophecies. The Federal election bill is on the shelf. It should be allowed to stay there.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

DURING the past year the death rate of Union soldiers was as great as during the war. Out of a membership of 464,562, the deaths numbered 5,476,—a rate that is bound to increase until not one is left. It is a melancholy reflection.

A CANDIDATE IN AMBUSH.

From Saturday's Philadelphia Press.

Governor Pattison's letter of acceptance, printed this morning, will be a disappointment only to Democrats. It will not be regarded as strong either for what it says or what it leaves unsaid, and it is not saved in any degree by the apology for its shortcomings and the attempt to cover them by reference to the speech of acceptance made at the Scranton convention. That speech really adds nothing to this letter, and it was in part an apology for not having a chance to say more at that time.

The candidate whom the Democrats have nominated betrays an undeniable purpose to run away from the issues which concern the people and which just now divide the two leading parties of the country. He seeks to ignore—and succeeds so far as his letter goes—the vital questions made prominent in both platforms. If he has any views upon the tariff question, or tax reform, or the troubles of the farmers, or ballot reform, he has not yet expressed them. Nor has he so far, in any public declaration, accepted the platform adopted by the convention which nominated him. His is not the attitude of a bold and aggressive fighter, ready and anxious to carry forward the broader principles of his party. He halts and draws the line against these, and demands that they shall not be intruded upon the canvass.

The purpose is clear enough. It is worth while to understand it, for it is one out of which the Democratic candidate and his friends derive small comfort. Governor Pattison has an exagerated idea of disaffection within the Republican party, and he seeks to bait his unknown quantity of disaffected with promises of halcyon times. He does not get away from the illusion that this is 1890 and not 1882. He discredits his position as the candidate of a great party by running away from all that the party has been and is contending for and attempting to bring the controversy down to one of vituperation and mud slinging. There can be no other interpretation of the little that is said in this letter.

That line of action will prove absolutely abortive. There is no Republican complaint against Republican administration; there is no difference of opinion among Pennsylvania Republicans about Republican policy; there is no question at issue to separate any Republican from the principles of his party and lead him to support a Democrat in ambush. If there are differences among Republicans as to party management and organization, they are such as will be—for they can only be—settled inside the party. No aid or comfort will be given the Democracy on that score, and no Democratic intermeddling will be tolerated.

Governor Pattison will get plenty of fight on the issue to which he has sought to narrow the campaign. But that is not all. He and his party will have to come out in the open, and all that they represent will go before the people for judgment. This is not a time when Democratic success can be had by subterfuge, and the voters of Pennsylvania understand the full meaning of a Democratic victory.

FEARS begin to be entertained in Washington that the President will veto the River and Harbor bill, there being now an unexpended balance of $5,000 000 of last year's appropriation. The present bill appropriates $20,000,000. The President understands as well as any one else that he has the authority to direct that the money appropriated shall be expended only where it is needed, and if there is any danger of a deficit in the Treasury he can direct that the greater portion of it shall remain unexpended. The spirit of economy and a veto is growing in the land at prasent.

L. A. SCHAEFFER, the newly-elected democratic county chairman, says he will not run a campaign on whiskey or boodle. That he will pay no man's taxes, buy no man's vote with a drink of whiskey, a sack of flour or a one dollar bill; haul no man to the polls, or do anything else that would be equivalent to purchasing votes. Mr. S. will run a model campaign and it will certainly be an economical one as all the money he will need will be a few dollars for stamps and to print their tickets.

WHEN Wolfe is let loose the democratic candidates had better get out of the road as sometimes wolves are dangerous.

CITIZENS REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

The Citizens' Republican Committee of Philadelphia has developed as the result of the reception given by Mr. William W. Justice to Senator Delamater a few days ago at which so many prominent Republican business men were present. Appreciating both the importance of Republican victory in the State and the high character of the nominees of the convention, many gentlemen present expressed a desire to be of service in the coming election, and so concluded to unite in some action for that purpose. From that time the Committee has grown rapidly into the body of citizens which is announced today.

It has been a long time since so many influential citizens representing so many varied interests have banded themselves together for the furtherance of cause or the election of any individual. Independent Republicans members of the Committee of One Hundred, and Stalwart Republicans all join in the same movement and the various interests of our great City are fully represented. The list as will be seen is composed of the merchants and manufacturers whose names are known all over the world and whose influence has always been toward the building up of the greatness of Pennsylvania; also many of the leading professional men have also joined in the movement and have identified themselves with the interests of the Republican party.

The Committee will act in harmony with the State organization, neither interfering with nor lessening its work but however rather supplementing its labors in some important directions. The chairmanship and the members of the Executive Committee will be announced shortly. Frank M. Riter, Esq., has accepted the Secretaryship. The Citizens Republican Committee has secured rooms on the second floor at the S. E. Cor., of 13th, & Chestnut Sts., which will be open daily during the campaign. The Committee numbers one hundred and sixty one members.

ONE of our contemporaries refers to the democratic county ticket as being entirely composed of farmers. Well, yes; they are—in a way. Holt has been farming the state for two years; McCormick has been farming the farmers of Centre county for the last five years by over charging them for phosphate for which he was agent; Ishler is a farmer and we guess Gramley has worked on a farm. Morrison has farmed the school district of Centre county all his life and Rupp has farmed the county for the past three years and prior to that he was a miller. Goodhart is a farmer and so is Adams—the latter a farmer of the public at large. Oh, yes; it is a ticket composed entirely of farmers, and then to cap the climax, they elected a farmer as county chairman. Mr. L. A. Schaeffer who farms a garden on Curtin street but puts in most of his time farming in the prothonotary's office, fills the last mentioned position.

THE MAJORITY IN THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Secretary Carter, of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, writes Curtiss in the Chicago News, said this afternoon: "By the gerrymander process in the various States the Democrats, since the last congressional elections, have really made an apparent gain of about fifty districts, and if they could carry all of the territory which they claim they would, of course have a majority of perhaps fifteen in the next House. It is not at all likely however, that they can gain more than half this number of the new districts which they now represent. What the general result will be no one can foretell at this time, for there are local issues of importance in every Congressional district. The Republican campaign Committee is organizing for business and beginning work in earnest. It proposes to defeat the wholesale gerrymander schemes of the Democrats, and I honestly believe we will elect a majority of the next House of Representatives.

—John McKinney, the lad who was convicted at the April term of court for an assault on the Superintendent of the Philipsburg schools, was called up before Judge Furst on Monday morning and sentence suspended indefinitely.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 25, 1890.

The republican Senators, governed by that good hard, horse-sense, which has helped the party over many more serious obstacles in the past, have compromised the differences of opinion that existed between them and which for several days furnished pegs for the democrats to hang hopes of a permanent split in the party upon. An order of business has been agreed upon that will receive the vote of every republican Senator. It provides for the early passage of the tariff bill, the anti-lottery bill and as many bills affecting public buildings and lands as possible; it also provides that the Federal Election bill shall be the first business of the next session of Congress.

There is another thing too, which is worrying the democrats no little. The action of the Senators of that party in needlessly delaying and obstructing the consideration of the tariff Bill has aroused the ire of the business interests of the country and the obstructionists are hearing from it in such plain and unmistakable terms that Senator Gorman, the democratic commander-in-chief, has felt called upon to make a public statement to the effect that the democrats were willing to join the republicans in voting for a resolution setting an early day for the vote upon the tariff bill. A week ago the democrats were boasting that they would talk on the tariff bill until December, unless the Senate Rules were changed.

The present outlook is that the tariff bill will pass the Senate about September 10, possibly several days earlier, and that Congress will adjourn about the last week in September. That is, of course, supposing that the House will not make any extraordinary delay in acting upon the conference report of the Senate amendments to the tariff bill, which will include one on reciprocity.

According to the promise recently made to the representatives of the labor organizations by Speaker Reed and Representatives Cannon and McKinley, the republican members of the House committee on Rules, a resolution has been reported, and adopted by the House setting aside Thursday and Saturday of this week for the consideration of bills from the labor committee.

The anti-lottery feeling seems to be growing among the people and in Congress. Representative Hansbrough, of North Dakota, has introduced a joint resolution providing that neither the United States nor any state shall pass any law authorizing the establishment or maintenance of any lottery or company for the distribution of prizes by chance.

G. A. R. Encampment.

The G. A. R. encampment will be held at Osceola Mills, September 9, 10 and 11, 1890. The following is the programme:

FIRST DAY.

6 p. m. Camp fire and bean bake.

SECOND DAY.

7 a. m. Reveille.
8 a. m. Army Camp Amusement.
10:30 a. m. General Parade in Town.
2 p. m. Address of Welcome, Rev. N H Miller.
Response, Col. E A Irwin, Curwensville.
Address, Post Dept. Com. Thos J Stewart, Harrisburg.
" Col. Chill W Hazzard, Monongahela City.
6 p. m. Sham Battle.

THIRD DAY.

9 p. m. Meeting for the purpose of forming permanent county organization, fixing place of next meeting, etc.
2 p. m. Address, ex Gov. Curtin.
" Adj Gen Hastings.
4 p. m. Strike tents.

All G. A. R. Posts, Sons of Veterans and old soldiers of the county are invited to be present. Tents provided with straw will be furnished to all comrades. Bring your blanket in knapsack.

SINCE there is some conflict of opinion regarding the interpretation of the law with reference to the registration of voters, it has been thought best to change the date for the last day for registration from September 4th (as announced in previous issues of this paper) to SEPTEMBER 3RD. Let all voters please take notice and see that their name is properly registered.

Mr. W L Wilson, of Stormstown, is in Bellefonte this week in attendance upon court as a traverse juror.

GENERAL NOTES.

A sycamore tree near Newton, Conn, is said to be 85 feet high and 21 feet in diameter.

An owl, shot near Jackson, Ga., last week, measured 5½ feet from tip to tip of the wings, and had a small steel trap on one of its feet.

Between 150 and 200 hogsheads of beer are given away every week to the employes at Bass' brewery at Burton-on-Trent in the way of 'allowances.'

One ostrich farm at Port Augusta, South Australia, contains 700 birds worth $100 each, and the yield of feathers this year is expected to be worth $7,000.

Walter Brothers, of Tamescal, Cal., have taken from a single hive this season 150 pounds of honey, and they expect to take 80 pounds more from it before the season is over, making 230 in all.

A Wichita woman predicts that the world will wind up on the 19th of November. The public will have to wait just three months to find out whether the prophets at Wichita are as bad as the poets.

It is probable that hereafter a census will be taken in England every five years but solely as to number of population, age, sex and distribution. The full census will continue to be taken at intervals of ten years.

Female slaves are still given to the Sultan in old-time pomp. An exquisitely beautiful girl of 16, a Georgian, that his aunt sent to him, was taken to the Yidiz Kiosk in a gilt coach escorted by a troop of gigantic eunuchs.

A woman in Salem, N. J., 34 years ago lost two silver coins in a slit in the floor. Last week, the floor being taken up for repairs, she instituted a search for the long lost money and found it.

One of the largest forests in the world stands on ice. It is situated between Ural and the Oknotsk Sea. A well was recently dug in this region, when it was found that at a depth of 116 metres the ground was still frozen.

Trade marks were known in ancient Babylon; China had them as early as 1000 B. C. they were authorized in England in 1300; Guttenburg, the inventor of printing is said to have had a lawsuit over his trade mark.

One of the oldest settlers of Brewer is dead in the person of Simon Wise, a colored man. He was such an old settler that he used to keep a smudge of chips burning all the time in front of the house, 'to frighten off the witches.'

J M Gibbs, of Rochelle, has several red pepper stalks of last year's growth. The stalks bore pepper last year, and, owing to the warm winter, were preserved. They bore all through the winter and are still bearing, and if nothing happens to them they will be bearing this time next year.

Entitled to Vote.

Under the Constitution of Pennsylvania every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications is entitled to vote at all elections :

First. He shall have been a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second. He shall have resided in the State one year (or if, having previously been a qualified elector or a native-born citizen of the State, he shall have removed therefrom and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third. He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer to vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth. If twenty-two years of age or upwards he shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before election.

Last day for assessment is September 3rd.

The registry list is required to be exposed at the polling places not later than the first Monday in August, and every voter should examine the book to make sure that he has been assessed.

Persons who have moved recently or contemplate moving before September 3d, should visit the assessor and have their names put upon the list.

Last day for naturalization is October 4th.

A naturalized citizen should have his naturalization papers with him, as an assessor or judge of election can require him to show them. The last day for naturalization is October 4th, and papers declaring an intention to be naturalized must also be shown to an assessor before such a name can be put upon the registry.

Last day for paying poll tax is October 4th.

Persons intending to vote upon age, that is under 22 years, must likewise be assessed, although the payment of poll tax is not necessary.

Every citizen not a real estate owner must have paid such a tax within two years preceeding the election in order to be a qualified voter.

Our Story Teller

THE EXILES

A RUSSIAN STORY.

(Continued)

CHAPTER XIII.—TEKEL'S RETURN.

That night was not a quiet one. There remained more than three-quarters of the ram killed by M. Lafleur. The odor of the raw flesh attracted the wolves. They roamed around the encampment despite Wab's growls and barkings, which were sometimes furious.

M. Lafleur, always serviceable, accompanied by the dog of the Himalayas, went to the nearest thicket and brought back a number of branches with which to feed the fire.

The flames intimidated the wolves, the eyes of which could be seen shining in the distance. While Wab kept off some of them, others more daring bore away the remains of the ram and made but a mouthful of them.

Soon the number of animals increased so greatly as to cause much uneasiness. At a signal from Yegor a general discharge of fire-arms was made in every direction. Yegor and M. Lafleur fired several times and the little Pole blazed away with his two revolvers. The chief of police, disabled by his wound, alone remained inactive.

The wolves hit by the shot uttered lugubrious howls, and the fugitives heard them roll and twist upon the ground in the convulsions of death. The others retired a short distance, but returned to the charge, and it became necessary to repulse them anew with balls.

At last, they were again driven back. But at daybreak they presented themselves in greater force than ever, ready to renew their attack. Wrangling with each other, they threw themselves upon the bodies of their companions lying in the snow and devoured them. This was but slight nourishment for so many famished animals.

Yegor and the others loaded their weapons, thinking that the wolves, their appetite stimulated by the raw flesh, would soon leap upon them. Ladislas passed his revolvers to Nadege and charged the carabine belonging to the chief of police. The latter grasped in his free hand an enormous spear. Thus they waited, ready for whatever might take place.

Suddenly, on the summit of the rock against which Nadege's tent was erected appeared a huge gray bear. It descended heavily and went straight towards the wolves.

The latter, disturbed at their feast, boldly wheeled about. Then, the bear, retreating a few steps, placed its back against the rock, squatted upon its haunches, thrust forward a wide-open, frightful mouth and crossed its fore paws over its breast. At this defensive attitude, the wolves formed a semi-circle about their adversary, prudently keeping several yards away.

Yegor and his companions were filled with amazement. After rapidly consulting, they decided to let these animals come to blows before interfering; besides, it was necessary to economize the supply of powder.

The gray bear and the wolves continued to observe each other, but the thing was becoming monotonous; the wolves seemed to be inviting the bear to begin the combat. They were trying to provoke it by growls, which certainly seemed to contain an accusation of cowardice. The bear, without departing from its calmness, was allowing the ardor of its adversaries to wear itself out.

Finally, some of the bravest or most famished leaped upon the hairy mass, which was as motionless as a rock. They threw themselves on the bear, attacking it in every direction.

Then the enormous beast began to lift its fore paws and, using them as clubs, struck right and left among its assailants. Each time one of its heavy paws descended a wolf fell with a fractured skull.

"Shall we aid the auxiliary that has come to us?" said Yegor to M. Lafleur.

The Parisian nodded his assent.

The two friends, summoning all their courage, took position beside the bear. A few gun-shots made a gap in the army of wolves; this was a useful diversion. For an instant the bear was frightened by the reports, but it quickly recovered and seemed to understand that help was being rendered it.

The exasperated wolves, far from retreating, rushed in a body upon the bear; all which advanced openly with heads erect fell victims to the claws or teeth of the formidable beast.

Yegor and his companions looked out for the wolves which approached treacherously, crouching to seize their terrible adversary by the stomach, a spot but poorly defended. The struggle soon grew frightful!

The bear hurled its innumerable foes afar as fast as they arrived within its reach. Those mortally wounded lay on the ground, howling and groaning; those which got off with slight wounds fled as rapidly as possible. A discharge of fire-arms accompanied their retreat.

There were several assaults of this kind, intrepidly sustained by the bear and its two improvised auxiliaries. At last, the wolves, seeing how many corpses of their number lay upon the field of battle, totally relinquished the struggle and disbanded.

The gray bear remained, impassible, astonished and in no way proud of its victory.

"Shall we attack it in its turn?" asked Yegor, resolutely.

"Wait, my friend," responded the Parisian. "The creature has been a great help to us. Besides, these gray bears are not ferocious. I am going to thank it for its aid with a dancing lesson; that is what is called in my country paying in ape's money. It is to be hoped that it will not settle its account by devouring me."

While speaking, M. Lafleur drew his little violin from his pocket. The bear followed, without losing anything, all his movements. Without taking time to give the la, the dancing-master, gravely marking the steps, played and danced nobly an old-time minuet.

The animal yawned at first, but the sharp sounds of the instrument astonished and, perhaps, charmed it. It shook its head with an approving air.

It is well known that the ear of the bear, insensible to bursts of thunder or the fall of avalanches, has the gift of perceiving and appreciating the weakest and softest sounds. The gray bear seemed to grow familiar with the dancer and his music. It belonged, for that matter, to a species void of ferocity, feeding mainly on vegetables and fish. At the commencement of winter, the Ostiaks are often seen conducting herds of gray bears to Berezoff, where the flesh is sold on the butchers' stalls.

Carried away by the cadence of the air, the animal also began to shake itself and dance.

While executing his minuet, M. Lafleur gradually moved away from the encampment; the bear followed him, as if magnetized by his bow.

Yegor had great trouble to prevent his dog Wab from going up to smell at close quarters this companion, suddenly grown so sociable.

Finally, M. Lafleur, thinking that he had drawn the animal far enough away to have removed all danger, quickly wheeled about, scraping forcibly upon the treble string. The bear, evidently annoyed by the altogether unexpected lack of harmony, departed with the heavy step of a mystified beast.

Some hours later, clouds of crows settled upon the bleeding bodies of the wolves, and the travelers thought it advisable to move their camp, advancing in the direction in which Tekel was to come with the nartas.

The Yakoute woman did not follow them, but resumed her road, bearing with her the three blue foxes.

Two days afterwards, as night was coming on—to speak the truth, it had been night all day—a sharp noise and a pattering sound on the hard snow announced from a distance the arrival of Tekel and the sledges, so impatiently awaited.

Soon the two nartas were in sight. The reindeer were running rapidly.

Yegor's joy was overwhelming, Nadege's eyes were filled with tears of emotion, and Ladislas clapped his hands.

"What fine teams!" cried M. Lafleur.

But Yermac's forehead suddenly clouded. The chief of police turned away to hide his annoyance.

The situation of this Muscovite functionary was passably strange. The former judge, incapable of relying upon his own judgment, regulated himself only by strict justice and the written law, without admitting any examination, interpretation or modification. Distrustful of his rights and his authority, he remained deaf to that interior voice which tells every man what is just or unjust, and limited his intellectual activity to the strict application of the law. In his eyes, men were made to obey the laws and the laws were not written in the interest of humanity. Further, he was always ready to sacrifice himself to his duty, as he had clearly shown.

And yet he was almost forced to lend assistance to people who had forfeited their privileges, who were braving the law and personally defying it. Now, he was about to be compelled to follow him. How far and during what time they alone could tell.

Yermac felt himself unable to resist this humiliation. Better had it been for him, he thought, to have succumbed beneath their repeated attacks than to become in their hands an object of pity and derision.

But what would he do if a patrol of Cossacks suddenly appeared? Would he denounce, as his duty strictly ordered him to do, Yegor and Nadege as escaping convicts and M. Lafleur as an accomplice in an attempted crime? But he owed his life to these unfortunates! What a cruel perplexity! A dolorous struggle took place in the conscience of the chief of police.

Tekel, as he advanced, hesitated for a moment. He did not recognize the locality. The forest razed by the conflagration gave the face of the country a new aspect. The Yakoute was greatly surprised, on approaching the encampment, to find that it had been established by Yegor and his party, the people in whose service he was.

He leaped lightly from the narta he was driving and displayed his teams for the general admiration. His Yakoute comrade was presented after the reindeer. He was quite a young man of a very pronounced Tartar type, and answered to the somewhat harsh name of Chort.

The costumes of the two Yakoutes presented a mixture of the garments of the Russian peasants and those of the natives of the fur countries. They were long pelisses of gray cloth in the Muscovite fashion, breeches of well-tanned reindeer skin and torbassas or boots of thick reindeer hide. These boots are so made that the foot can enjoy perfect ease in them, the tip of the sole is turned up like the runner of a skate. They reach to the knee and are bordered by a wide band of black cloth. All the seams in the garments of Tekel and Chort were covered with bands of this cloth. It is to be added that their boots were fastened about the ankle by strips of leather.

Let us pass to the sledges.

Nartas are Siberian sledges. They are narrow, long, and very light, with accommodations for two persons besides the driver. The latter is but illy seated. He places himself on one side and is always ready to leap to the ground at the slightest accident. In the box of each narta is a receptacle for food to be used while traversing uninhabited sections, and also for certain indispensable utensils.

Tekel had had the foresight to fill the boxes of his two nartas with flour, barley, dried and smoked fish, etc., while an abundant supply of lichens showed that he had not forgotten the reindeer. He had furnished himself with hatchets, numerous knives and hunting and fishing implements. Felt cloth covered each of the vehicles and could at need be used in the erection of tents.

Each narta was drawn, after the manner of the natives, by three stout reindeer. Generally, the Russians prefer to harness to these vehicles a large number of dogs. They find it easier to feed them with the flesh of animals killed on the road and, at need, with fish, than to renew, without going out of their way the mosses on which the reindeer live.

As to the animals, they left much to be desired. Three out of the six were white. Two had magnificent horns measuring from four to five feet. The others lacked either the right horn or the left, except one—it had been used to ride upon—which had its horns sawed off near the skull. Besides, it was the season in which the reindeer shed the hairy skin with which their horns are provided, and long, bloody strips hung from the antlers. It will be remembered that a reindeer's head greatly resembles that of a heifer, but the body is slenderer and the limbs cleaner cut. The broad foot of the creature facilitates traveling over the snow. Without the reindeer, the tribes of the extreme north could not exist. The animal is for them what the horse and the cow are for us, the camel and the goat for the Arab of the desert. It serves at once as a beast of burden and nourishment; it gives milk and garments to those who raise it.

Yegor informed Tekel of what had occurred during his absence, and was very glad to learn that this servant had by chance laid in a supply of provisions; they would replace those which had been abandoned to the flames of the forest.

That evening, the repast was exceptionally comfortable, thanks to the elements furnished by the new arrivals from Zachiversk: Yakoute butter, without salt and hardened by the cold, which was broken into pieces: strouganina, or raw fish frozen and cut into thin slices; reindeer brains, frozen also; and black bread dried in small cakes—all dishes reputed to be delicious and choice. The Yakoutes added some wild onions gathered in the neighborhood.

After the meal, the two natives made their preparations for the night. The reindeer unharnessed and set at liberty, Nadege and Ladislas were placed in one of the nartas and well covered with its felt cloth. To the chief of police—in consideration of his wound—was assigned the other narta. They wrapped him up warmly in it. Yegor and the Parisian rolled themselves in their furs. As to the Yakoutes, they scarcely took the most simple precautions against the cold, justifying the title of "men of iron" bestowed in Siberia upon their race.

The next day, at an early hour, the fugitives were to continue their journey.

CHAPTER XIV.—ARRESTED.

In the light produced by the atmospheric refraction, the travelers had taken the eastern highway, guiding themselves by means of a tiny compass, a gewgaw figuring among the charms attached to Yegor's watch-chain; the compass with which the latter had provided himself had been lost during the burning of the forest, together with the map of the comparatively unknown districts to be traversed by the fugitives; but this map was photographed, so to speak, upon the exile's brain, in consequence of the thorough study he had made of it during the long hours he had devoted to planning his escape.

The severe cold necessitated the adoption of every available means of braving the rigors of the season, at the very commencement of the journey.

The nartas went at the average speed of eight miles an hour. In the first, driven by Tekel, were Yegor, Nadege, and Ladislas. The chief of police and M. Lafleur occupied the second.

An interminable plain presented itself to the sight, not with a distant prospect—the light was too faint for that—but with such uniformity in the sheet of whiteness, of which the nartas seemed always to occupy the centre, that without the patter of the hoofs of the reindeer in the snow, without the scraping sound produced by the runners of the sledges, the travelers might have believed their vehicles motionless.

They crossed several frozen lakes. The camp, after the first day, was even established on one of those marshes which remain eternally frozen beneath the surface, and which are called trundras.

The second day dawned amid an intense cold that promised well for the progress of the fugitives. They resumed their journey, carefully shunned some inhabited points where posts of Cossacks were located, and where it would have been difficult to furnish a satisfactory explanation of the object of this trip between the Indiguirka and the Kolima in such rough weather.

Suddenly, a Cossack, driving a very light little sledge drawn by numerous dogs, shot by the nartas like an arrow.

This Cossack had a droll look, with his lance slung across his back and his fur hood pulled down over his eyes. One might have thought him astraddle of an overturned iron chair and being drawn along, despite himself, by a dozen dogs.

It was a courier despatched by the commander of a post established to the north of the plain which the fugitives were crossing, parallel to the Stanovoi-Grebete chain, in which rise the Indiguirka, the Kolima, and the Omolon rivers.

The Cossack, after having passed the two nartas, turned his team about and started to overtake them; Yegor and M. Lafleur, therefore, ordered their drivers to put the reindeer to the top of their speed.

They had so much the air of flight that the Cossack's curiosity was stimulated. He wished to take a nearer look at these travelers who were in such haste and who, contrary to the custom of the country, shunned speaking with the people whom good luck threw in their way.

In less than five minutes he rejoined the nartas, and Yegor and his companions were forced to stop and enter into conversation with him.

"I wish you a safe journey, Messieurs," said the Cossack. "And here is a piece of advice for you—go a little to the left, if you would not miss the ostrog of Verkne-Kolimsk."

The ostrog was the post from whence the Cossack had been despatched.

"They are not going to the ostrog," said Yermac.

"Where are they going, then?" asked the Cossack, more puzzled than ever, for he could not understand how they could disdain making a halt at this post, deemed a precious refuge by those obliged to cross these vast solitudes. "Are your passports in proper shape?" demanded he of Yegor, who, having quitted his sledge, had advanced to talk with him.

"Our passports are in proper shape," answered the young man. "If you were charged with verifying them, I would show them to you with pleasure. But what good would that do, since you are only an ignorant fellow?"

"Not so ignorant, after all! I am a courier to the neighboring posts, the bearer of information relative to some vernaks escaped from Yakoutsk! There are—(and the Cossack counted the travelers)—there are four of them (he, however, saw five persons), and you answer so well to the descriptions that I shall be compelled to ask you to go pay your respects to our Esaoule!"

The Cossack thought, perhaps, that he had made a fine capture. He had no compunction or false sensibility about the matter, for the contempt for exiles is so great that the natives repeat this popular saying: By killing a squirrel one gets only one skin, but by killing a vernak one gets three—the man's coat, shirt and hide!

Yermac was about to speak, but the Parisian was too quick for him.

"We do not refuse," said he, to the Cossack; "and, if you will lead the way, we will follow you willingly. For my part, I should greatly relish something warm to eat. Do they cook well at the ostrog? I do not believe that my companions would have anything to say against some good pemmican (extract of meat) broth and a venison pate."

M. Lafleur said this in a pleasant tone, at the same time endeavoring to make Yegor comprehend by signs that it was impossible to get clear of the plain invitation of the Cossack.

Yegor then resumed his place, first questioning, with a look the countenance of the chief of police. The latter seemed absorbed in a deep meditation, the subject of which the exile divined. Had Yermac not been present, Yegor certainly would have given the Cossack some trouble. But an attempt of that kind, with the chief of police against him, could not have been made without running the greatest risks.

Nadege was much alarmed at the intervention of this soldier and Ladislas already had tears in his eyes. Yegor reassured them both, and directed Tekel to regulate the speed of his sledge by that of the vehicle of the fatal Cossack who had thrown himself across their road.

The three nartas started abreast.

The Cossack took a notion to have a race between his dogs and the reindeer. Tekel and his friend Chort were not averse to the proposal and accepted the challenge, driving off at a furious rate. In less than a quarter of an hour the ostrog was in sight. Yegor had scarcely had time to think over how he should face the terrible trial that was coming.

His heart beat violently.

The ostrog was a small, ruined fortress, with walls formed of beams confusedly heaped together. A little square tower still stood at each angle, despite the age of the structure, the whole being surrounded by a palisade of huge logs of wood. It was what remained of one of those ancient fortifications built, in the seventeenth century, to protect the first Russian pioneers against the incursions of the natives.

Beside the ostrog stood a small village—one of the most remote stations in this northern region.

In the fortress, ten Cossacks composed a post placed under the orders of an Esaoule. Thanks to this armed band, the officer of the Czar was enabled to collect by force the tax payable in furs—the yasak—owed by the nomads of the district.

Yegor and his companions were brought before the Esaoule, who occupied the largest house in the village. He was an aged Russian—an old fox whitened in his burrow—perhaps, a former under-officer of the army who had been promoted, perhaps, a disgraced functionary who had been punished by banishment.

With such a man, firmness was necessary. Yegor summoned up all he possessed. He complained of the invitation made with armed hand by one of the soldiers of the ostrog, protesting that he was accustomed to more respect.

M. Lafleur, thinking that his friend was assuming too lofty a tone, interposed.

"Look here, my dear fellow," said he "my gluttony did as much towards deciding you to come to pay your respects to our Esaoule as all that abominable Cossack said. I am hungry and want something warm to eat," added he, addressing the Esaoule.

"It was not your intention to stop here then?" said the latter. "You wished neither to renew your stock of provisions nor to procure fresh animals?"

This officer, all-powerful in the district, could alone grant permission to obtain reindeer and purchase food.

"We came from Yakoutsk," answered Yegor, "but our reindeer, which were brought to us from Zachiversk, are not yet fatigued and our provisions are still abundant."

"And you are going—"

"To Nijni-Kolimsk. This young girl and her brother are the children of your colleague, the Esaoule of that town; their father is very ill—and I am taking them to him."

"Ah! Toumanoff is ill?—dying? I have heard nothing of it!" said the old officer. "I knew that his daughter and son were being educated at Yakoutsk."

"They are before you," said Yegor, blushing deeply at the lie he was forced to tell.

His color and confusion did not escape the Esaoule.

"Have you passports?" asked he.

"Certainly," said Yegor, drawing from his bosom the document he had prepared.

"Let me look at it," said the official.

He took the stamped paper, read and reread it, turning it over and over in his hands and staring at the fugitives in a disturbing fashion.

Yermac smiled; he kept his eyes on the Esaoule and was amused at the embarrassment of Yegor, whom his presence alone greatly troubled.

"The passport is in proper shape," said the officer, at length, "but it is only for you and my colleague's children. Have the two men who are with you passports, also?"

"One of them," said Yegor, drawing on all the powers of his imagination, "M. Lafleur," and he presented to the Esaoule the former herbalist, "is a Parisian and, further, a distinguished naturalist and the author of the "Flora Altaica!"

"All this is not a passport," observed the old Russian official.

"M. Lafleur has a ticket permitting him to go as far as Aldanskoi where I met him and he risked accompanying me out of pure love for science."

"Hum!" muttered the Esaoule, but half convinced.

"Never," said M. Lafleur, "am I asked for my passport—no, never! and every year I run through Siberia from the Ural Mountains to Kamtchatka, and from the Altai chain to the Arctic Ocean. The rest of my time I pass in the intimacy of the governor of Yakoutsk and his charming family. I enjoy the respect of the governor, the esteem of his wife, and the friendship of Miles. Agrafena and Elena, their daughters. Are you satisfied, Esaoule? For a relay-master you are furiously exacting! Look at me well—I am a Frenchman, born in Paris, on the Place de la Bastille. My spine is straight and I have not the air of being accustomed to receive the knout—know that, and vive la liberte! Respect in me a friend of your superior, and don't annoy me further with your ridiculous formalities!"

While speaking, M. Lafleur had, nevertheless, handed his ticket to the officer.

"I ask your pardon, Monsieur," said the latter, respectfully taking the paper; "but the chief of police of Yakoutsk," (the fugitives could not repress a start of great surprise) "notified me through my Cossacks of the escape of several exiles and sent me descriptions answering exactly to you, this young lady, her brother, and the young man accompanying them!"

Yermac drew himself up, radiant at having succeeded so well.

Yegor thought he was about to speak—to denounce them.

He made a desperate attempt to assure his silence.

"You have not asked me," said he, to the Esaoule, "who is my other traveling companion. I have the honor to present to you in him one of the four or five Polish priests," (Yermac seemed overcome with supreme amazement)—"one of the Polish priests whom the Russian government allows to travel through Siberia, to visit once a year the settlements in which are the political convicts of their race and faith. He passes bravely through the Siberian cold from Tobolsk to the colonies of the Amoor, and from the mines of Nertchinsk to the shipyards of Okhotsk."

"He ought to have a regular passport!" murmured the Esaoule.

The chief of police had about him only papers establishing his identity. To show them, would be equivalent to a denunciation.

"Permit me to finish," resumed Yegor, to whom the danger lent activity of mind. "The devotion of our new friend does not always receive its recompense; among the Verkho-Yansk Mountains, we drew him, so to speak, from the jaws of a bear—"

"Which had already cruelly torn his arm," said M. Lafleur, coming to Yegor's aid.

"But the passport?"

"Eaten by the bear," said M. Lafleur.

"Lost with a valuable wallet, in the agony of the terrible strife," said Yegor, drowning the voice of the distinguished naturalist.

The Esaoule, astonished at the silence of the pretended Polish priest, looked at him as if to obtain from him a word agreeing with the declarations of his companions.

The chief of police replied to this look.

"I have nothing to add," said he, "to what has been told you—the Verkho-Yansk Mountains, the bear, the wound—all this is the exact truth."

This was an immense relief to Yegor and Nadege, but all the trouble was not yet over."

"All this," said the Esaoule, scratching his head, "is far from being regular."

"What further can I do?" asked Yegor.

"You!—nothing. But I must do what the circumstances render necessary. I arrest you, and shall ask instructions of the governor of Yakoutsk and his chief of police, at the same time sending a Cossack to Nijni-Kolimsk to announce to the Esaoule, my colleague, your speedy arrival—provided that what you have told me be true."

CHAPTER XV.—THE JEW AND HIS GOLD DUST.

Yegor was thunderstruck. He saw Nadege turn pale, ready to swoon.

"As you please," said he to the Esaoule, "though it is a wretched piece of business to delay children who are hastening to their father's death-bed. But you should, Monsieur," added he, firmly, "when travelers are obliged to present themselves before you, fatigued by a long journey made under the worst conditions to gain a few hours—these hours which you are so lightly making us lose—you should begin by exercising a little in their favor that Siberian hospitality which is praised so highly—in distant districts—especially when there are delicate persons among them, like this young girl and this little lad."

The Esaoule, in confusion, offered Nadege a chair, and showed Ladislas some kindness.

"Monsieur," said he to Yegor, "my house is yours, and all it contains is at your service. You can dispose of them as you like until my couriers have returned from the seat of government and Nijni-Kolimsk. Meanwhile, I will endeavor, believe me, to diminish for you and your companions the weariness of your forced captivity."

"But the lost time!" exclaimed Nadege.

"Mademoiselle, I will regain it for you by furnishing you with excellent teams of dogs."

"As for me," said Yermac, "I can but congratulate you, Monsieur Lavrenti Kantier, upon your interpretation of your duties as a functionary of the Empire!"

"You know me, then?" said the Esaoule, considerably surprised to hear his name mentioned by the so-called Polish priest.

"No matter about that," said the latter. "It is enough that my compliments are sincere."

The Esaoule, seeing that these words were spoken seriously, took them in good part.

"I do all I can," said he, "to properly discharge my duties, which are often disagreeable."

Yermac's countenance beamed. Thus, without being compelled to display ingratitude towards his companions, without breaking an engagement made with them by implication, he would accomplish his ends, thanks to his care in sending by the patrol of Cossacks' instructions to the four most important posts, which form a vast quadrilateral in the solitudes of the districts of the Indiguirka and the Kolima. The law would triumph! He would recover his liberty of action, without having weakened, without having failed in what he owed himself as chief of police.

"Pray be seated also, Messieurs, and tell me something about the burning of the forest of Ostrovoye," said the Esaoule. "You must have witnessed the conflagration."

"Ah! you may well believe it!" cried M. Lafleur, who had lost nothing of his confidence.

And he pompously began the description of the disaster, making use of numerous Latin quotations taken hap-hazard from his recollections of the rudiments of that tongue, for he was forced to maintain in the presence of this ignorant official the reputation for learning with which Yegor had endowed him. Each word of the dancing-master, uttered with perfect ease, seemed intended to communicate to the fugitives the calmness and assurance he was showing.

While he was talking, a Cossack who served the Esaoule, at his master's order, placed upon the rustic table roughly fashioned with a hatchet the best the house possessed. The prudent Esaoule, prepared for everything, did not wish his unwilling guests to be in a position to accuse him of having been lacking in hospitality. He already possessed the esteem of the pretended Polish priest; he now aimed to win that of the governor's friend, the so-called author of the "Flora Altaica."

The warmth of the apartment was comforting to the travelers. They disembarrassed themselves of their heavier garments. Yegor insisted that Nadege should do honor to the dishes served upon the Esaoule's table. The young girl's depression might well be attributed to the sad and imperious necessity that had obliged her to undertake this difficult winter journey.

Yermac ate with an appetite he had not felt for a long while.

A tchi of meat was served, accompanied with rye loaves fresh from the oven, and with preserves made of a kind of small gooseberries which had reached exceptional maturity the preceding summer.

"I shall without losing a moment," said the commander of the ostrog, "prepare my despatches and send off my couriers before an hour has passed."

"Wait a little," said Yegor, audaciously; "your couriers shall also bear a letter from me to the father of these children, your colleague of Nijni-Kolimsk."

"And one from me," added the Parisian, "to the governor's wife complaining of your severity, Esaoule, and giving her a description of your excellent preserves."

The Esaoule seemed somewhat disconcerted. He evidently feared to be exhibited in a bad light to so many important personages.

[To be Continued.]

RAILROADS

BALD EAGLE VALLEY RAILROAD.—TIME Table, Nov. 10, 1889.

STATIONS	Dis	A.M	A.M	P.M
		WESTWARD
LOCK HAVEN		4 40	9 15	4 20
Flemington—f	1.8	4 43	9 19	4 23
Mill Hall	3.0	4 46	9 22	4 2
Beech Creek	8.3	4 56	9 34	4 3
Eagleville—f	9.9	4 59	9 37	4 4
Howard	14.5	5 07	9 48	4 49
Mt. Eagle—f	17.7	5 14	9 56	4 55
Curtin	19.9	5 18	10 01	5 02
Milesburg	23.5	5 25	10 12	5 10
BELLEFONTE	25.2	5 35	10 25	5 20
Milesburg	23.5	5 45	10 35	5 30
Snow Shoe Int	24.8	5 48	10 38	5 35
Unionville	28.5	5 55	10 48	5 41
Julian	32.9	6 05	10 59	5 50
Martha	37.0	6 12	11 09	5 59
Port Matilda	40.4	6 21	11 17	6 06
Hannah—f	42.7	6 28	11 26	6 13
Fowler—f	45.0	6 30	11 29	6 15
Dix—f	46.3	6 32	11 32	6 19
Bald Eagle	49.3	6 40	11 38	6 25
Vail	51.2	6 44	11 43	6 28
East Tyrone	55.0	6 48	11 48	6 35
TYRONE	54.3	6 55	11 55	6 40
STATIONS	Dis	A.M	P. M.	P. M
		EASTWARD
TYRONE		8 10	2 10	7 15
East Tyrone	1.3	8 17	2 17	7 22
Vail	3.1	8 20	2 20	7 26
Bald Eagle	5.0	8 25	2 24	7 33
Dix—f	8.0	8 30	2 30	7 39
Fowler—f	9.3	8 32	2 33	7 42
Hannah—f	10.6	8 36	2 37	7 46
Port Matilda	13.0	8 42	2 44	7 55
Martha	17.3	8 51	2 52	8 05
Julian	21.4	8 59	4 01	8 15
Unionville	25.8	9 10	4 10	8 25
Snow Shoe Int	29.5	9 18	4 18	8 35
Milesburg	30.8	9 22	4 20	8 39
BELLEFONTE	32.5	9 32	4 30	8 49
Milesburg	30.8	9 47	4 40	9 01
Curtin	34.4	10 01	4 47	9 11
Mt. Eagle—f	36.6	10 06	4 55	9 17
Howard	39.8	10 16	5 02	9 27
Eagleville—f	44.4	10 30	5 19	9 46
Beech Creek	45.9	10 35	5 16	9 46
Mill Hall	51.3	10 50	5 24	10 01
Flemington	52.5	10 54	5 27	10 05
LOCK HAVEN	54.3	11 00	5 30	10 10

LEWISBURG AND TYRONE RAILROAD Time Table in effect Nov. 19th, 1889.

Westward Dis.			Stations	Dis. Eastward
P.M	A.M				A.M	P.M
5 35	7 31		SCOTIA	25.6	9 21	4 37
5 55	10 21	5.3	Fairbrook	20.3	9 09	4 37
6 07	10 28	8.7	Penna. Furnace	16.9	8 56	4 25
6 14	10 34	10.6	Hostler f	15.0	8 50	4 18
6 20	10 46	12.3	Marengo f	13.3	8 43	4 11
6 27	10 52	13.5	Loveville f	12.1	8 37	4 05
6 34	10 58	15.2	Furnace Road f	10.4	8 31	3 59
6 38	11 02	15.8	Dungarvin f	9.8	8 27	3 55
6 48	11 10	18.2	Warriors Mark	7.4	8 19	3 48
6 58	11 20	20.5	Pennington	5.1	8 10	3 40
7 10	11 32	23.5	Stover	2.1	7 58	3 28
7 20	11 40	25.6	TYRONE		7 50	3 20

BELLEFONTE & SNOW SHOE RAILROAD.—Time Table, Nov. 10, 1889.

Leaves Snow Shoe at 6.45 a m ; arrives at Bellefonte at 8.45 a m.

Leaves Bellefonte at 10.25 a m ; arrives at Snow Shoe at 11.16 a m.

Leaves Snow Shoe at 3.09 p m ; arrives at Bellefonte at 4.50 p m.

Leaves Bellefonte at 5.25 p m , arrives at Snow Shoe at 7.00 p m.

S S BLAIR, General Supt.

LEWISBURG AND TYRONE R. R.—BELLEFONTE, NITTANY AND LEMONT R. R. To take effect Nov. 10th, 1889.

Dis.	Westward				Eastward
	a.m.	p.m.		a.m.	a.m.	p.m
.9	5.56	2.05	MONTANDON	5.36	9.10	5.48
1.5	6.15	2.15	Ar. LEWISBURG Lv	5.20	9.00	5.35
1.5	6.15	2.15	Lv. LEWISBURG Ar	.....	9.00	5.35
5.4	6.24	2.26	Biehl f	.....	8.51	5.26
6.8	6.30	2.32	Vicksburg f	.....	8.45	5.20
10.7	6.41	2.43	MIFFLINBURG	.....	8.35	5.09
13.1	6.48	2.50	Barber f	.....	8.29	5.01
15.2	6.54	2.55	Swengle f	.....	8.24	4.56
15.1	6.56	2.58	Milmont	.....	8.22	4.53
18.6	7.05	3.08	LAURELTON	.....	8.13	4.43
23.5	7.12	3.20	Pardee f	.....	8.01	4.30
28.9	7.30	3.33	Cherry Run f	.....	7.48	4.16
32.3	7.40	3.44	Paddy Mt. Tunnel f	.....	7.40	4.08
33.9	7.45	3.48	Ingleby f	.....	7.36	3.57
36.6	7.52	3.55	Coburn	.....	7.27	3.50
39.6	7.58	4.04	Zerby f	.....	7.19	3.45
43.4	8.16	4.13	Rising Springs	.....	7.16	3.35
46.2	8.18	4.21	Penn's Cave f	.....	7.00	3.27
49.2	8.25	4.28	CENTRE HALL	.....	6.52	3.20
51.6	8.35	4.35	Gregg f	.....	6.43	3.13
54.6	8.42	4.43	Linden Hall	.....	6.36	3.06
56.7	8.48	4.48	OAK HALL	.....	6.30	3.00
58.3	8.52	4.52	LEMONT	.....	6.25	2.55
60.2	8.59	4.57	Dale Summit f	.....	6.20	2.50
63.9	9.09	5.06	Pleasant Gap f	.....	6.10	2.40
65.2	9.14	5.10	Axeman f	.....	6.04	2.34
67.4	9.20	5.15	BELLEFONTE	.....	6.00	2.30

CHAS E. PUGH ..... General Manager
ROBERT NEILSON ..... General Superintendent
E. B. WESTFALL ..... Superintendent

BELLEFONTE AND BUFFALO RUN RAILROAD.—On and after Wednesday, August 7, 1889, Trains on the Bellefonte and Buffalo Run Railroad will run as follows, leaving the PENN'A RAILROAD STATION.

EASTWARD.				WESTWARD
No.6	No.2	Dis.	STATIONS	No.1	No.5
P.M	A.M			A.M	P.M
6 20	9 10	18.	Ar. BELLEFONTE Lv	6 00	3 00
6 13	9 03	17.	Scales	6 07	3 09
6 08	8 59	16.	Morris	6 11	3 13
6 03	8 54	15.	Whitmer	6 16	3 19
5 59	8 51		Linns	6 19	3 23
5 57	8 48	12.5	Hunters	6 22	3 26
5 53	8 44	11.2	Fillmore	6 26	3 30
5 47	8 40	9.5	Briarly	6 32	3 36
5 43	8 36	8.	Waddles	6 36	3 43
	8 33		Matterns		3 45
	8 25		Stormstown		3 52
	8 19		Hall Bank		3 59
5 39	8 09	6.9	Scotia Crossing	6 46	4 09
5 34	7 25	2.	Krumride	7 00	4 59
5 20	7 20	0.	LYSTA TE COLLEGE Ar	7 04	5 04

Trains will stop at stations marked "F" when signal is given or notice to Conductor.

Train 2 connects with Trains east and west on B E V R R and S S Branch.

Train 6 connects with Trains east on B E V R R and the S S Branch.

THOS. A. SHOEMAKER, Supt.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—(Philadelphia and Erie Division.)—On and after Nov. 10th 1889.

WESTWARD

ERIE MAIL leaves Philadelphia daily ... 11 25 p m
" " Harrisburg " ... 3 30 a m
" " Williamsport " ... 7 10 a m
" " Jersey Shore " ... 7 35 a m
" " Lock Haven " ... 7 58 a m
" " Renovo " ... 8 50 a m
" arrives Erie " ... 4 05 p m
NIAGRA EXP, leaves Phil'a week days 8 50 a m
" " Harrisburg " 12 15 p m
" arrives at Williamsport " 3 05 p m
" " Lock Haven " 4 15 p m
" " Renovo " 5 15 p m
" " Kane " 8 15 p m
Passengers by this train arrive in Bellefonte at ..... 5 15 p m
FAST LINE leaves Philada. week days ... 11 40 a m
" " Harrisburg " ... 3 45 p m
" " Williamsport " ... 7 10 p m
" arrives at Lock Haven " ... 8 02 p m
" " Renovo " ... 9 00 p m
NEWS EXP. leaves ... Philadelphia ..... 4 30 a m
" " " Harrisburg ..... 9 10 a m
" " " Williamsport ..... 11 10 a m
" " arrives at Lock Haven ..... 12 10 p m
WMSPORT EXP. leaves Philadel

MRS. MOSES THOMPSON.

Brief Biography of Herself and Distinguished Family.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, wife of Moses Thompson, of Centre Furnace, who died on Friday morning at 2 o'clock, was born in 1811, thus being at the time of her death in her 79th year. She was the seventh child of Mr. John Irvin and Ann Watson Irvin, of Harris township. Her family is one of the oldest and most distinguished in Centre county.

On her father's side, Mr. John Irvin emigrated from Ireland and settled at Lewistown, where he worked at his trade. From there he came to Penns Valley opening a store at Linden Hall. In 1798 he married Ann, daughter of James Watson of that place. He soon after erected a grist and saw mill at Linden Hall where he resided until his death in 1843. At the time of his death he was the largest landholder in Penns Valley except the Potters. He had also built the mills at Oak Hall and the stone mill at Sinking Creek.

His children were Gen. James Irvin; Susan, who married Thomas Duncan, and after his decease James Potter; Margaret, who married to Hon. Andrew Gregg (Maryland), Dr. William Irvin; John Irvin; Nancy, married to Dr. Benjamin Berry; Mary married to Moses Thompson; Eliza, married to Roland Curtin, Jr.; L W Irvin; Sarah, married to Capt. W Wilson Potter, of Bellefonte; George W Irvin, who died when young. Of the family of eleven children only three survive Mrs. Thompson, namely, Mrs. Gregg, Mrs. Roland Curtin and Mrs. W. W. Potter. Mary Irvin was married to Moses Thompson on the 4th of January, 1838. Eight children came to bless their union, two of whom died in infancy. Their names were as follows: Sarah Irvin married to Dr. T. S. Christ; Elizabeth McFarlane, married to John Hamilton, of State College; John Irvin, married to Elizabeth M Boal; William, married to Anna Elliott, of Lewisburg; and James Irvin and Annie, both unmarried. All the sons and two daughters are left to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate mother as child ever knew.

Mrs. Mary Thompson was one of the most widely known and highly respected ladies in Centre county. Always genial and hospitable her kindness and bright sunshiny ways had won for her more friends in all classes of society than it is generally given to one being to possess. She was the friend of everybody. Charitable in her disposition and a true christian lady her friends and neighbors cannot yet realize how great their loss in her death. But their loss is her gain.

Mrs. Thompson had been ill for some time but a couple of weeks ago she was stricken with paralysis from which she never recovered but finally succumbed to on the day above mentioned. As previously announced, the funeral will take place on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Peterson's Magazine.

"The best for the Ladies," one only needs to look at the September number of "Peterson" to decide that it is the best magazine for ladies. The fashions are always accurate and novel, and the varied department are kept up to the highest standard. Lovers of good literature will always find ample gratification for their tastes in the fiction, poetry and miscellaneous articles. This number has an illustrated article on Bamboo furniture, full of useful suggestions and artistic designs, and a paper on the preservation of Autumn leaves will delight all flower lovers. Two serials are running, as unlike as they are original and interesting, and the short stories are all worthy of commendation. "Things Worth Knowing" is for the benefit of housekeepers this month, and Dr. Abram Livesy has an article on children's diseases, which every mother ought to read. Terms, Two dollars a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

"If you win this suit I'll give you five hundred dollars."

"I've had promises like," replied the lawyer, "made to me a hundred time and haven't made a cent out of them yet."

Percy Perkins is no gentleman, Reggy Why, he proved himself a donkey the other evening and I told him so to his face.

Reggy What did he say?

Percy "Oh, he didn't say anything He got awfully mad, though, and kicked me."

Little Sister—Ma wants you, Sammy. Where've you been?

Sammy—Fishin'.

Little Sister—Did you catch anything?

Sammy (sadly)—Nothin' 't all.

Little Sister—Oh, but you will when you get home.

Get Registered.

Attention is again called to the necessity of getting registered on or before September 3. This is essentiel if you desire to vote this fall. Let no man lose his vote for want of registration or assessment. Committeemen throughout the county should give this their attention.

5/A CLIPPER FLY NETS
CHEAP AND STRONG.
20 other styles 5-A Nets, prices to suit all
WM. AYRES & SONS, PHILADELPHIA.
Sold by all dealers.

A FINE PIECE OF CHEWING TOBACCO IS INDEED A LUXURY FINZER'S Old Honesty COMES AS NEAR BEING A FINE PIECE OF PLUG TOBACCO AS IT IS POSSIBLE TO MAKE IT AND IS KNOWN AS A Standard Brand AMONG DEALERS

THESE GOODS ARE ON THE MARKET IN ONLY ONE SHAPE, 3x12 FULL 16 OZ. PLUG—THE MOST CONVENIENT TO CUT IN POCKET PIECES OR CARRY WHOLE.
JNO. FINZER & BROS., Louisville, Ky.

5/A LAP DUSTERS
ARE THE BEST.
100 styles, prices to suit all.
WM. AYRES & SONS, PHILADELPHIA.
Sold by all dealers.

IMMEDIATE
Relief guaranteed to sufferers from RHEUMATISM
or NEURALGIA
BY USING WASHBURNE'S
SALICYLICA
$1.00 A BOX,
ALL DRUGGISTS, OR BY MAIL.
IRVING DRUG CO.,
32 warren Street New York.
Rep aug 21-1y

TO WEAK MEN
Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, wasting weakness, lost manhood, etc., I will send a valuable treatise (sealed) containing full particulars for home cure, FREE of charge. A splendid medical work; should be read by every man who is nervous and debilitated. Address,
Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.

RUPTURE
—Thousands have been permanently cured by—
DR. J. B. MAYER 831 ARCH ST
PHILADELPHIA, PA. Treat at once, no operation or loss of time from business. Cases pronounced incurable by others wanted. Send for Circular.
CURE GUARANTEED. Advice Free. Office Hours 9 to 4.
Rep ap-24-1y

AGENTS $1,000 Per Year and Expenses is what we are paying We want 100 more and will pay Salary and expenses, Liberal Commission from start, A Rare Opportunity for any man wanting a position as Local, Traveling or General Agent for a reliable Nursery that guarantees its stock. Address, at once,
R. D. Luetchford, Nurseryman,
Mention this paper Rochester, N. Y.
rep my 22-3m

FOR MEN ONLY!
VIGOR AND STRENGTH For LOST or FAILING MANHOOD; General and NERVOUS DEBILITY; Weakness of Body and Mind, Effects of Errors or Excesses in Old or Young, Robust, Noble MANHOOD fully Restored. How to enlarge and Strengthen WEAK, UNDEVELOPED ORGANS & PARTS OF BODY. Absolutely unfailing HOME TREATMENT—Benefits in a day. Men testify from 50 States and Foreign Countries. Write them. Descriptive Book, explanation and proofs mailed (sealed) free. Address ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRH
PRICE 50 CTS.
IT IS THE BEST, EASIEST TO USE, & THE CHEAPEST.
Rep my-29-1y

PATENTS
Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained, and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with names of actual clients in your State, county, or town, sent free. Address,
C. A. SNOW & CO.
OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON D. C.

DR. THEEL
538 North Fourth St., below Green, PHILADELPHIA, Regular registered Physician and Surgeon, Graduate of the best Colleges. The acknowledged most successful specialist for speedy, safely and permanently curing.
SPECIAL DISEASES, of both sexes, by an entirely new discovery. BLOOD POISON discharges etc., obstinate hard or soft ulcers, skin eruptions, blotches, pimples, swellings, inflammations, Bladder, Kidney, Heart, Lung, Liver, stomach, mouth, throat, nose, early decay, debility, loss of mental and physical strength, melancholy, pains from excesses or youthful errors. Cure is positive and lasting relief at once. Fresh cases cured in 4 to 10 days, no experiment but skill and science. Do not be humbugged by deceiving advertisements but call or write and be saved. $15,000 will be paid to any advertising Doctor or Quacks who can show as many hopeless cases cured as I can. Send 2 cents stamp for book "TRUTH" and sworn testimonials, exposing quacks and advise to all sufferers and those contemplating marriage. OFFICE HOURS—Every Day from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M., Evenings 6—8, Wednesday & Saturday Evenings from 6—12, Sundays from 9—12. Strictly confidential.
FOR REFERENCES see Wed. and Sat. Philadelphia Times.

SPECIFICS.
Dr. HUMPHREYS' Specifics are scientifically and carefully prepared prescriptions; used for many years in private practice with success, and for over thirty years used by the people. Every single one is a specific for the disease named. They cure without drugging, purging or reducing the system, and are in fact and deed the sovereign remedies of the World.

	CURES.	PRICES
1	Fevers, Congestion, Inflammation	.25
2	Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic	.25
3	Crying Colic, or Teething of Infants	.25
4	Diarrhea, of Children or Adults	.25
5	Dysentery, Griping, Bilious Colic	.25
6	Cholera Morbus, Vomiting	.25
7	Coughs, Cold, Bronchitis	.25
8	Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache	.25
9	Headaches, Sick Headache, Vertigo	.25
10	Dyspepsia, Bilious Stomach	.25
11	Suppressed or Painful Periods	.25
12	Whites, too Profuse Periods	.25
13	Croup, Cough, Difficult Breathing	.25
14	Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions	.25
15	Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains	.25
16	Fever and Ague, Chills, Malaria	.25
17	Piles, Blind or Bleeding	.25
18	Ophthalmy, and Sore Eyes	.25
19	Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head	.25
20	Whooping Cough, Violent Coughs	.25
21	General Debility, Physical Weakness	.25
22	Kidney Disease	1.00
23	Nervous Debility	1.00
24	Sea Sickness, Sickness from Motion	.25
25	Kidney Disease, with Gravel	1.00
26	Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed	.25
27	Diseases of the Heart, Palpitation	1.00

Sold by Druggists, or sent postpaid on receipt of price. Dr. HUMPHREYS' MANUAL, (144 pages) richly bound in cloth and gold, mailed free. Humphreys' Medicine Co. 109 Fulton St. N. Y.

One of the BEST Telescopes in the world. Our facilities are unequalled, and to introduce our superior goods we will send FREE, to ONE PERSON in each locality as above. Only those who write to us at once can make sure of the chance. All you have to do in return is to show our goods to those who call—your neighbors and those around you. The beginning of this advertisement shows the small end of the telescope. The following cut gives the appearance of it reduced to about the fiftieth part of its bulk. It is a grand, double size telescope, no larger as to carry. We will also show you how you can make from $5 to $10 a day at least, from the start, without experience. Better write at once. We pay all express charges. Address, H. HALLETT & CO., Box 880, PORTLAND, MAINE.

THEY LEAD THEM ALL.
Dr Meeker's Medicine.
BLACKBERRY CORDIAL SPEEDY RELIEF LUNG TONIC.
They speak for themselves, Every battle guaranteed. Prepared by H. C. & J. A. Olmstead, Inquire of your druggist, or send for circulars to WILLIAMSPORT MEDICINE CO. 631 W. 3rd st, Williamsport, Pa. my24-1y-d&w

A NORTHERN FAMILY DOWN SOUTH
Has charge of the Pine Bluff Cottage where those who wish to escape the cold Northern Winters can get board at Moderate Prices.
Amid the Pines.
HEALTHIEST SPOT IN AMERICA!
Address, COTTAGE RESORT,
Pine Bluff, Moore Co., N. C.
400 ACRES, 37th YEAR

SAW MILLS
Patent Variable Friction and Belt Fre.
Steam Engines, Hay Presses,
Shingle Mills &c.
Portable Grist Mills,
Send for illus Catalogue. A. B. FARQUHAR CO., York, Pa. Threshing Machines, &c.
Rep aug 21-12t

ORGANS $35. Pianos $30, Catalogue Free. Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, N. J.

WHITHER! O! WHITHER, OLD WOMAN, SO HIGH? WITH BLACK DIAMOND ROOFING TO COVER THE SKY. WHY GO SO FAR FROM THE LAND OF YOUR BIRTH? BECAUSE IT ALREADY COVERS THE EARTH.

Send for illustrated circular to
M. EHRET, JR., & CO.,
423 Walnut Street,
PHILADELPHIA.
Rep-a24.3m

SCOTT'S EMULSION
DOES CURE
CONSUMPTION
In its First Stages.
Be sure you get the genuine.

ONE POUND PEOPLES HORSE AND CATTLE POWDERS TRADE MARK. CONTAINS NO POISON
—FOR—
Horses, Cattle, Sheep & Hogs.
Excels any remedy for the rapid cure of Hard Colds, Coughs, Hide Bound, Yellow Water, Fever, Distemper, Sore and Weak Eyes, Lung Fever, Costiveness, Blotches, and all difficulties arising from impurities of the Blood. Will relieve Heaves at once. Manufactured by the JOPPA MANUFACTURING CO., LYONS, N. Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS.

I CURE FITS!
When I say CURE I do not mean merely to stop them for a time, and then have them return again. I MEAN A RADICAL CURE. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS,
A life-long study. I WARRANT my remedy to CURE the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a FREE BOTTLE of my INFALLIBLE REMEDY. Give Express and Post Office. It costs you nothing for a trial, and it will cure you. Address
H. G. ROOT, M.C., 183 PEARL ST., NEW YORK

PILES ITCHING PILES. SYMPTOMS—Moisture; intense itching and stinging; most at night; worse by scratching. If allowed to continue tumors form and protrude, which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in most cases removes the tumors. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is sold by druggists, or mailed to any address on receipt of price, 50 cts. a box: 3 boxes, $1.25. Address letters, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia, Pa.
SKIN DISEASES SWAYNE'S OINTMENT
ABSOLUTELY CURES. The simple application of "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" without any internal medicine, will cure any case of Tetter, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Piles, Itch, Sores, Pimples, Erysipelas, &c. no matter how obstinate or long standing. Sold by druggists, or sent by mail for 50 cts. 3 Boxes, $1.25. Address, Dr. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia, Pa. Ask your druggist for it.

Tutt's Pills
The dyspeptic, the debilitated, whether from excess of work of mind or body, drink or exposure in Malarial Regions,
will find Tutt's Pills the most genial restorative ever offered the suffering invalid.
Try Them Fairly.
A vigorous body, pure blood, strong nerves and a cheerful mind will result.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

FOUR SCORE YEARS TO-DAY.

E. C. Humes, President of the First National Bank Reaches His 80th Milestone.

To day marks quite an interesting event in the life of Mr. E C Humes, President of the First National bank, of this place. The event referred to is his 80th birthday. It was on the 23rd o August, 1810, when Mr. Humes first saw the light of day. Since that time 80 years have passed over his head.

Four generations have risen up and passed away and still Mr. Humes remains, a sturdy landmark of the long ago, sturdy, vigorous—almost youthful in his actions—he gives fair promise of rounding out another half score or more of years yet.

Mr. Humes was a son of Hamilton and Ann Elmira Humes. He was born in Bellefonte and hence has spent all his life in this little town. He was educated at the Bellefonte Academy and graduated from Dickinson College, Carlisle, in 1829, when only 19 years of age After clerking awhile for his father, they became associated in the mercantile business under the firm name of H. Humes & Son. On the retirement of his father the firm name became E C Humes & Bro. Mr. Humes was married December 7, 1843, to Miss Lucy Alexander, In 1856 in connection with Hon. A G Curtin, Hon. H N McAllister, and Hon. James T Hale he established the banking house of Humes, McAllister & Co., to which he gave all his attention and which soon obtained a first-class credit throughout the state. This institution was merged June 8, 1864, into the First National Bank, of Bellefonte, of which Mr. Humes became president, and which position he still holds. And now, at his advanced age, he is to be seen every day from early till late, attending to his official duties in his private office in the rear of the bank

Mr. Hamilton Humes, cashier of the Jersey Shore banking company, and a brother of Mr. E C Humes, and Mrs. Humes, and Mrs. Elizabeth McClure, a sister, and her daughter, of Lewisburg, are now at the home of Mr. Humes and will help to make happy and bring back reminiscences of their childhood days, and in addition, it will be a reunion of an aged trio. May they all live many years longer.

The Ladies Home Journal.

For midsummer reading, the August Ladies' Home Journal is like a cooling breeze—all the stories savor of the sea and country, and Julian Hawthorne, Maud Howe, Louise Chandler Moulton, Kate Upson Clark, Jenny June, Dr. Talmage, all vie with each other in story, poem and article. The article on "Promiscuous Bathing" for girls is specially timely. The life of the fashionables at Newport is delightfully told in an article: Dr. Talmage tells how he preached his first sermon, while ten of our most famous women try to answer the question, "Which is the Happiest Hour in a Woman's Life?" Caroline B. LeRow says some very helpful things in telling what are the "Essentials of a Good Teacher," while the departments devoted to flowers and talks with girls are especially well filled this month. Altogether, the August Journal makes the very best of summer reading—pure and bright, and as entertaining as beneficial. The number costs only ten cents. The Journal is published, at one dollar per year, at 433-435 Arch Street, Philadelphia.

"I have prescribed your Mellin's Food for years, and know of nothing to take its place; I often use it for grown patients also," writes a physician.

Blackberries Thicker Than Grapes.

The Williamsport G. & B. says: Geo. and Clarence Beauperland, with several other boys whose names were not learned, went berrying yesterday morning and met with remarkable luck. They climbed the mountain a short distance below Mountain Grove, and stumbled upon a blackberry patch that extended a long distance. The berries which were dead ripe, clung to the bushes in bunches as thick as grapes, and in a short time the boys had gathered all they could carry. They got back home in time for a noonday dinner and brought thirty quarts of berries. In many places the luscious fruit is rotting on the vines

Geo. D. Mitchell,
Attorney at Law and Solicitor of Pensions and Patents, Box 253, washington, D. C. Clerk Senate Pension Committee for last 7 years. If you like PROMPTNESS write me. Glad to give advice. rep-aug 28 2m

YOU can get the best education at Clark's Business College, ERIE, PA., and make Money. Write for circulars. Mailed free. rep aug 21-4t

Washington & Jefferson College,
WASHINGTON, PA.
The 90th year begins Sept. 17. Classical Scientific and Preparatory Departments. For information concerning Preparatory Department apply to PROF. J. ADOLPH SCHMITZ, Prin.; for Catalogue or other information to President MCFAT. Rep aug 21-1m DEAFNESS & EAR NOISES CURED by Peck's INVISIBLE TUBULAR EAR CUSHIONS. Whispers heard. Comfortable. Successful where all Remedies fail. Sold by F. HISCOX, Only, 853 B'dway, New York. Write for book of proofs FREE.

Star Spring Water.
Saratoga Star Spring Water for sale in bottles and by the glass by all Druggists

VINCO
EXTRA FINE CHEWING

TOBACCO
This standard brand of plug tobacco is acknowledged to be the best chew and the largest piece for the money in the market. Vinco tin tag on each lump. Its extensive sale for many years has established its reputation. There is nothing better. Try it. For sale by dealers and grocers.

Rubber Shoes unless worn uncomfortably tight, generally slip off the feet.
THE "COLCHESTER" RUBBER CO.
make all their shoes with inside of heel lined with rubber. This clings to the shoe and prevents the rubber from slipping off.
Call for the "Colchester"
"ADHESIVE COUNTERS."
Graff Son, & Co., Wholesale Agent's
Rep ap-24-1y Philadelphia Pa.

Professional Cards.

WILLIAM I SWOOPE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, Furst Building, Bellefonte, Pa.
21 26 1y

JOHN KLINE, Attorney-at-Law, Bellefonte, Pa. Office on second floor of Furst's new building north of Court House. 16-17-1f

J. G. LOVE, Attorney-at-Law, Bellefonte, Pa. Office in rooms formerly occupied by the late Hon. Judge Hoy. Ja4'71-1f

THOS. C. VAN TRIES, M.D., Has located permanently in Bellefonte. Offices No. 15, North Spring St. 21 42 6m

E. B. CHAMBERS, Attorney-at-Law. Office at No. 16 Crider's Ex., Allegheny street. All business promptly attended to. 17-12-1y

S. D. RAY, Attorney-at-Law, Bellefonte, Pa. Special attention given to the collection of claims. Office on High street. 13-21f

D. H. HASTINGS. W. F. REEDER.
HASTINGS & REEDER, Attorneys-at-Law, Bellefonte, Pa. Office on Allegheny street, two doors north of office formerly occupied by the late firm of Yocum & Hastings. 14-1y-15

CLEMENT DALE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, BELLEFONTE, PA. Office in Crider's new building, corner of Allegheny and High streets. 19 45 tf

PATRICK O'FARRELL, Attorney and Counselor at Law, —and— Solicitor of Patents, Pensions and Claims.
Hdqrs. JOHN A RAWLINS' POST No. 1, Department of the Potomac G A R, Washington, D C, March 15, 1886.
Comrade O'FARRELL, Adjutant of this Post, is doing good work for our comrades in his profession and business as an attorney and claim agent. The Captain was a brave soldier during the late war. He is a good lawyer and an honest man. Comrades throughout the country, who place their business in his care, will be honestly dealt with. C G BOLLINGER, Commander
1319 F Street, N W, Washington, D. C.
Formerly Capt Co G, 69th N Y, (Corcoran Irish Legion). 20 26 tf

Physicians and Dentists.

H. K. HOY, M. D., Oculist & Aurist, 24 High Street, BELLEFONTE, PA. Office Hours—7—9 A. M., 1—2 & 7—8 P. M. Defective Vision Carefully Corrected. Spectacles and Eye Glasses Furnished. O-21-1f Insurance.

INSURANCE effected on all kinds of Properties in Companies of undoubted strength and security, at standard rates.
INSURE AGAINST LOSS AND DAMAGE BY FIRE AND LIGHTNING.
9-9-1y GEORGE L. POTTER.
(Furst's Building.) High street, Bellefonte

Shaving Saloons.

WM. MILLS
FASHIONABLE BARBER AND HAIR DRESSER. Pleasant rooms and experienced workmen under Centre county bank building High street Bellefonte, Pa.

IT'S SPORTEE! IT'S SPICEE? IT'S SPUNKEE.
NEW YORK ILLUSTRATED NEWS
THE ORGAN OF HONEST SPORT IN AMERICA.
All the sensations of the day pictured by the FOREMOST ARTISTS OF THE COUNTRY. Life in New York graphically Illustrated. Breezy but respectable.
$4.00 FOR A YEAR, $2.00 FOR SIX MONTHS
Do you want to be posted? Then send your Subscription to the
NEW YORK ILLUSTRATED NEWS,
8 PARK PLACE, NEW YORK CITY.
Published ever Wednesday, dated Saturday

Bellefonte Republican.

BELLEFONTE, CENTRE CO., PA.,

A Weekly Political and Family Journal

IRCULATION THROUGHOUT CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA.

REGULAR ADVERTISING RATES.—Twenty cents a line for each insertion.

Annual and Six Months' Contracts at Special Rates

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION:

ONE YEAR.....$1.50
SIX MONTHS..... 75
THREE MONTHS..... 40

If paid Strictly in advance the REPUBLICAN and Philadelphia Weekly Press One Year...$1.50

SYMPATHY, NOT STRIKE

The Supreme Council Decides It Cannot Order Its Men Out.

THE LAW WILL NOT PERMIT

In Its Manifesto the Council Unanimously Indorses the Strike on the New York Central and Unsparingly Denounces Vice President Webb.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 27.—When Frank P. Sargent, chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen, arrived here to convene the supreme council of the Federation of Railway Employes he came direct from New York, where he had been in touch with the strike, strikers and leaders thereof. He was thoroughly impregnated with the belief that the men were fighting in a just crusade, was wholly impressed with Powderly's sincere and straightforward manner, and had promised the leader of the Knights his undivided support. So keen were his convictions when he called the supreme council to order to discuss the momentous question, that he was fully prepared to brush all technicalities of law aside and order a general strike in defense of the revolt against what he believed to be an attack on organized labor, which, being successful in this instance, might next hurl itself against his own organization.

GRAND CHIEF SARGENT.

Eugene V. Debs, grand secretary of Sargent's organization, and editor of The Firemen's Magazine, the official organ of the order, and than whom no man has been more anxious for or earnest in advocacy of an affiliation, offensive and defensive, with the Knights of Labor, and whose influence in the supreme council is only second to Sargent's, not having been in contact with the strike at all, and therefore entirely removed from the influences which burned so deep an impression in Sargent's mind, could only view the entire case from a strictly legal standpoint. So it came to pass that while Sargent counseled strike Debs argued law, and law came off victorious. Thus it is that the supreme council of the Federation of Railway Employes, while assuring the Knights of their fullest sympathy and denouncing Vice President Webb in unmeasured terms, proclaims to the world that their ironclad fundamental law in this instance positively prohibits a general strike. Following is the decision of the supreme council:

EUGENE V. DEBS.

The Findings of the Council.

First—That the position of the Knights of Labor as set forth by T. V. Powderly and the general executive board of the Knights of Labor meets with our unqualified approval.

Second—That the course pursued by H. Walter Webb toward Mr. Powderly and the Knights of Labor, notwithstanding his declarations to the contrary, evinces a purpose to disrupt and destroy labor organizations on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad as was done by Austin Corbin on the Philadelphia and Reading.

Third—That the policy of H. Walter Webb is despotic to an extent that outrages every principle of American citizenship, and if generally adopted, would, if successful, reduce American workingmen to the degraded condition of serfs.

Fourth—That H. Walter Webb, by the employment of Pinkerton thieves, thugs and murderers, vile wretches from the slums and brothels of New York and other cities, to kill workingmen because they dared to protest against his rule and strike for their rights, is guilty of a crime of such enormity as will associate to the name of H. Walter Webb forever with those who, dressed in a little brief authority, have used their money to secure power to degrade their fellow men.

Fifth—That the efforts now being put forth by H. Walter Webb to destroy the Knights of Labor would, were circumstances changed, in like manner be made to destroy the organizations of engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen, and if successful, it is only a question of time when a similar effort will be made to seal the fate of other labor organizations.

Sixth—That H. Walter Webb by the course he has pursued toward the Knights of Labor and the representatives of labor organizations has shown a total disregard of those principles of citizen sovereignty dear to every American worthy of the name, and considering only his money power and the corporate power of the company he represents, his acts, which speak louder than words say, in the language of W. H. Vanderbilt, once the autocrat of the New York Central, "The public be damned."

Unqualified Approval of the Strike.

Seventh—H. Walter Webb seems to support his arrogant attitude toward workingmen and labor organizations by assuming that the New York Central and Hudson River railroad is private property, and that his acts in the treatment of his employes is in no sense a matter of public concern; that he can with impunity discharge men and remand them to idleness and poverty and render them homeless wanderers without giving any reason or explanation whatever for his conduct, disregarding the fact that the corporation for which he plays autocrat is a thing created by laws, in the making of which the men he seeks to degrade have a voice which, once unified, will bring his corporation to the bar of justice, where his millions and the other millions he represents will cease to be potential in directing questions of rights.

In view of the foregoing facts the supreme council puts upon its record its unanimous and unqualified approval of the strike on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad for the cause set forth by T. V. Powderly, general master workman, as also the efforts made by Mr. Powderly to bring the strike to an honorable termination. In this general expression of approval of the action of the Knights of Labor the course of Vice President Webb is as unequivocally condemned.

The power of the supreme council in the matter of the strike has been exerted to aid the Knights of Labor, through their representatives, to secure the recognition of their order by the officials of a rich and powerful corporation, to secure for workingmen (the victims of autocratic power) a hearing and to perform such other kindly offices as were proper under the circumstances, demonstrating sympathy and good will, thereby aiding the Knights of Labor to bring the strike to a close upon principles of right and justice.

Why a Strike Cannot Be Ordered.

In this the council met with failure, owing to the autocratic attitude of H. Walter Webb. It now becomes necessary for the supreme council to say that owing to the fact that the order of the Knights of Labor is not a member of the Federation of Railway Employes the laws of the supreme council do not permit its doing more than it has done to aid the Knights of Labor, and its inability to participate otherwise in the strike is now known and appreciated by Mr. Powderly. Referring to the laws of the supreme council relating to strikes the matter is concisely presented as follows: In the first place, if the members of the organizations on any railroad have a grievance it is submitted to the proper officers of the road by the local grievance committee. In the event of failure to obtain satisfaction the chief executive officer of the order having the grievance is called upon, and in connection with the committee seeks to amicably adjust the differences.

If failure still attends the efforts to adjust the trouble, then the supreme council is convened at the headquarters of the railroad officials, with whom a conference is requested, and its influence is exerted to obtain a settlement alike just to all parties. If failure still follows efforts to remove the cause of complaint, and the council by a unanimous vote decides the grievance to be of such gravity as to justify a strike, it is promptly ordered, in which event the members of the various organizations employed on the road where the grievance exists—viz.: Firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen—abandon their work. In conclusion the supreme council places upon its high appreciation of the manliness of the Knights of Labor employed on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad in struggling to maintain a principle sacred to every workingman on the continent and to all men who love justice and hope for the triumph of right over wrong as flagrant as ever stained the pages of history.

F. P. SARGENT, President.
W. A. SHEEHAN, Secretary.

POWDERLY SATISFIED.

He Predicts a General Strike Before Three Days Have Passed.

ALBANY, Aug. 27.—Members of D. A. 246, of this city, who are quite intimate with Mr. Powderly, stated Tuesday morning that the chief had said that the action of the Federation was merely a conservative course they were compelled to take by reason of their charter. The word of sympathy, however, was merely a word of caution to the members of the Federation to look out for any encroachment upon their rights, and Mr. Powderly believes that they will seize upon the first opportunity offered to strike. That opportunity he predicts will occur before three days are gone by. In fact Mr. Powderly almost assured the members of D. A. 246 at their secret meeting that a general strike would soon occur.

It is further claimed upon the part of the Knights that as yet only part of their men are out on this road, and that when the general order goes out there will be more trouble yet. The general order for a strike of all Knights of Labor on the Central road will be given Wednesday, and on all other connecting roads aiding the Central to move freight on Thursday.

The Central road has obtained some forty new men to work in the shops at West Albany and a few new men to attend switches. They are moving freight in larger quantities than any day since the strike began. Superintendent Bissell said: "We are doing better than we expected, and although everything is not ship-shape we are rapidly getting near that condition."

At the Delaware and Hudson yards about fifteen old hands and as many new ones went to work, and the order refusing local freight has been countermanded and local merchants are happy. Superintendent Hammond says that the road is now in good shape and simply suffered by a little delay. The road has nearly its complement of men.

The strikers, on the other hand, assert that the freight is being handled by half the complement of men, and that if the road continues to handle freight of the Central they will tie up the whole division.

General Manager Toucey, of the Central road, was asked his views of the result of the Federation conference. He replied: "I wonder how the switchmen feel now? Their own Federation refuses to adopt their quarrel and they are left adrift. I have always tried to be fair with the men and give them every chance to explain themselves, and I don't think ten out of every fifty of these knew what they were striking for on the morning when they went out. The Federation's action ends this strike."

A GREAT RAILWAY SCHEME.

It Will Bring London Within Seven Days of Chicago.

QUEBEC, Aug. 27.—The most gigantic railway scheme ever proposed in Canada, with the single exception of that of the Canadian Pacific railway, is now about to engage a very large share of public attention here. The promoters are chiefly French and English capitalists, though Sir Hechter Largeoin, K. C., M. G., minister of public works of the Dominion, and Sir Charles Tupper, high commissioner for Canada in London, are largely interested parties. The scheme is to build a railway eastward from Quebec some 850 miles to St. Charles bay, on the Labrador coast, from which point large steamships are expected to make the voyage to Milford Haven, in Wales, in three and one-half days.

By this route it is expected that passengers and perishable freight can be carried from Chicago to London inside of seven days. It is proposed by the company, which calls itself the North Canadian Atlantic Railway and Steamship company, to construct a new railway from Milford to London. The capital of the company is $20,000,000, but the company is authorized to bond its road and issue debentures for the purchase of steamships.

The provisional directors include Sir Henry A. Isaacs, lord mayor of London; Sir Robert N. Fowler, M. P., banker; Thomas Woods, chairman of the Milford docks; Charles G. Mott, director of the Great Western railway; William R. Balch, banker, of London, and Sir Douglass Fox, the eminent English engineer, who is also consulting engineer of the company. The head office of the company is in England, and the English directors have sent out one of their number, Mr. Balch, to make preliminary arrangements.

Tobin Wins The Globe Sword.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The voting in the contest for the $1,000 sword, offered by The Boston Globe to the most popular Grand Army man, ended in a victory for Fire Commissioner and Post Department Commander Richard F. Tobin, of this city, who received 1,493,276 votes in the total of 4,846,496 cast.

Nominated by Acclamation.

MORRISTOWN, Pa., Aug. 27.—Irving P. Wanger, of Morristown, was today nominated by acclamation by the Republican congressional convention of the Seventh district, composed of Montgomery and Bucks counties. The district is at present represented by Robert M. Yardley.

A BIG BLAZE IN CHICAGO

McVicker's Theatre Almost Totally Destroyed by Fire.

MANY NARROW ESCAPES.

The West Wall, Eight Stories High, Falls with an Awful Crash—One Man Dragged Down in the Ruins. Firemen Barely Escape.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—McVicker's theatre was almost destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. The west wall of the building, reaching eight stories in height, went down with a terrific crash into the narrow alley.

John Duffy, a pipeman in engine company No. 7, came down with the debris and landed fairly on his head in a jagged pile of mortar and brick. He was fearfully mangled and fatally injured. Duffy's comrades on the roof barely escaped with their lives. They heard the wall creaking and ran to the center of the roof just as the great mass went down. They subsequently escaped to the street by means of a fire escape.

The fire started in the basement of Lithgow's saloon, which occupies the west half of the building, and smoldered among piles of straw and liquors for nearly an hour before it was discovered. By that time the flames had burst through the basement windows.

When the department arrived everything under the big theatre, including dressing rooms, stage paraphernalia and baggage, was ablaze.

It Was a Fire Trap.

The fire was burning so fiercely that a second battalion of engines was called out, and it required all they could do to keep the flames from eating a path into the upper stories of the building. As it was, the foyer and the chairs in the parquette circle caught fire at one time, and blazed brightly until four or five streams of water were turned on the flames.

The firemen chopped gaping holes in the floor, tore down the costly hangings that ornamented the main entrance and even broke through the stage in their anxiety to save the building. Before they got through the theatre proper was nearly ruined. The loss to the theatre and building will not be less than $125,000. The entire interior of the theatre is practically destroyed.

What with water, smoke and the use of axes, which latter was rendered necessary to reach the basement, the theatre will have to be entirely rebuilt and renovated. That it was a fire trap was shown from the way the flames ran through the whole structure. Everything in it burned like a tinder box, despite all the firemen could do.

A Narrow Escape.

Five companies of firemen who had been stationed near the main entrance barely escaped with their lives. The brave fellows were pushing through to the stage when they heard a loud creaking above their heads. They instantly retraced their steps, and barely got outside in the lobby when the roar of falling galleries and dome told of the destruction of the theatre.

W. Miller, a truckman, and another fireman were also injured, but not fatally.

Fireman Duffy, who came down with the falling wall, it is now stated may recover.

The fire communicated to several small hotels in the immediate vicinity, but did no serious damage. The guests were panic stricken, but all escaped in safety. All the front offices of the building received little damage except by water, and the tenants will continue to do business at their old stands.

The New York "Shenandoah" company, which has been playing at McVicker's theatre for the past fourteen weeks, lost all its wardrobe and costumes and the complete scenery, including the mammoth scene in the Shenandoah valley. To-night the company was to have celebrated the 100th performance of "Shenandoah," and the entire house was sold in advance.

Mr. McVicker spent thousands of dollars on the interior, making it the handsomest theatre in the city. The loss of this house will be a serious one for combinations, as Sara Bernhardt, Jefferson and Florence were already booked there.

Another Record Broken.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—At Holmes' Field, Cambridge, James Grant, the veteran pedestrian, ran five miles in 25 minutes 24 seconds, lowering the American record 30¾ seconds.

Bellefonte Markets.

BELLEFONTE, November 6, 1889.

Red Wheat, per bushel	90
Mixed wheat, per bushel	85
Buckwheat, new, per bushel	40
Rye per bushel	60
Corn (shelled)	60
Corn (ears)	50
Oats	40
Barley	50
Cloverseed, fair to good	4.00
do prime and extra prime	4.40
do choice	4.80
Flour, retail, per barrel	5.40
Flour, wholesale	4.75
Hay choice mixed, per ton	$ 8.00
" prime timothy " "	8.50
" choice " " "	9.00

)o(

Provision Markets.

(Corrected weekly by C. E. Shuey.)

Apples, dried, per pound	10
Green apples, per bushel	200
Cherries dried, per pound, seeded	25
Dried Currants, per pound	10
Raisins, per pound	15
Beans, per quart	10
Fresh Butter, per pound	28
Cheese, per pound	15
Country Hams, per pound	12½
Hams, sugar cured	15–17
Shoulders	10
Breakfast Bacon	12½–14
Country Bacon	9–10
Lard, leaf, per pound	12½
Lard, country, per pound	10
Eggs, per dozen	15
Potatoes, per bushel	10½–140
Dried Beef	25
Canned Beef, 2 pound can	25
Country Side, per pound	10
Canned Tomatoes, per can	10–15–18
Canned Corn, per can	1'–12½
Lemons, per dozen	40
Dried, sweet Corn, per pound	10
Apple Butter, per gallon	75
Roller Flour, per sack	$1 25

)o(

—That new house of Dr. J. L. Seibert's, on Allegheny street, will be, when completed, one of the nicest and most convenient, as well as comfortable, residences in Bellefonte. It is large and roomy and the plan is an ideal one. The rooms are all large and so laid out as to utilize every square foot of space and at the same time give it an elegant as well as artistic appearance.

CENTRAL COUNTY MINERS.

They Hold a Meeting in Philipsburg and Have Something to Say About Candidates.

A special dispatch from Philipsburg to the Pittsburg Times says: "A delegate meeting of miners forming Division A. of United Mine Workers of America was held in this place Saturday the 23d which was attended by J. B. Rae and Robert Watchorn. The meeting was called for the purpose of sending delegates to the Altoona conference of operators and miners to be held on the 27th and a conference between miners from Centre, Clearfield, Jefferson, Cambria, Clarion and Huntingdon counties at Altoona. The miners' conference will attempt to agree on a uniform scale of dead work in the counties named, and many also agree to present a demand for an advance in mining rates equal to about 5 cents per ton. They are now paid about 50 cents for 2,240 pounds of coal and may ask for a rate of 50 cents a net ton. These demands will be presented at the conference of miners and operators to be held Wednesday. It is not believed that any general strike will follow the deliberations at Altoona, though it is quite probable that some operators will be called upon to make some advance in payment for dead work, particularly operators working mines the veins of which are less than four feet in thickness.

At the conference in Philipsburg a legislative committee was appointed to secure pledges from all candidates for the Legislature from Clearfield and Centre counties, pledging them in favor of uniform text books in the schools of this commonwealth; opposition to the pluck-me store system; favorable to the repeal of the law permitting the employment of Pinkerton thugs; to[?] eeded amendments in the mining law. Other pledges will also be asked of all candidates."

The above paragraph reads very much as if it was the work of Mr. T. P. Rynder, the man who it is said will be an independent candidate for Senator. It is likely that Mr. R. is now figuring to get the endorsement of the Republican party but it is not likely he will succeed.

President Garfield's Physician.

Dr Bliss speaking in the highest terms of Speer's Port Wine writes the following from

WASHINGTON, D C Jan. 25, 1884.
Alfred Speer, Esq., Passaic, N J.

DEAR SIR.—I have to acknowledge the superior quality of Wines of your production, notably your Port Wine, and to say I have prescribed them for my patients for the past two years, with uniform and satisfactory results, I have full confidence in the purity of your Wines and that they are uniformly of standard strength, hence prescribe them almost exclusively in my practice.

Very truly yours,
D W BLISS, M D.

His Skull Was Cracked.

On Sunday, Aug. 17, at the Penn Cave Station camp meeting two men from Georgia's Valley, namely, Henry Lingle and Greene Decker, got into an altercation over a fight in which their boys had indulged. Words brought on blows and finally Lingle hit Decker on the head with a "billy" cracking his skull. Decker now lies in a very critical condition and Lingle is under arrest awaiting the result of his thoughtlessness.

Recomends S S S as a Tonic.

I take great pleasure in recommending Swift's Specific (S S S) as a Blood Purifier, and general tonic. It has no equal for toning up the system, purifying the blood, and bracing up the flagging energies in the spring. Three bottles of this wonderful medicine made a new man of me.

JOHN L. HUFF, Girard, Ill.

Death of an Aged Lady.

Mrs. Turner, widow of James Turner died at her home on East Bishop street at 7 o'clock Friday morning. She was a very aged lady and was a life-long resident of this county. There were six children, of whom five are living and one died several years ago. She was a devout and earnest member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral will be held at her late residence at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted during the past week at the register's office in Bellefonte, Pa:

Charles Wagoner, of Harrisburg, Pa., and Annie B Sones, of Harris township.

C. S. Whitmer and Sallie Lutz, both of Benner township.

Ira N From and Annie Dunkle, both of Bellefonte.

Speer G Burrell, of Penn Hall, and Susan R Horner, of Spring Mills, Pa.

Frank Downing and Carrie Rote, both of Bellefonte.

Valentine Koskurko, of Vicker Mines, and Emelia Forberger, of Philipsburg.

They are Liable!

The doctors are all liable to be mistaken. They were in my case. It cost me $200,00, because they said I had the Heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was Liver complaint, and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie Poor, Rockport, Mass.

English Spavin Liniment removes all hard, soft, or calloused lumps and blemishes from horses. Warranted the most wonderful blenish cure ever known Sold by F.Potts Green, Bellefonte.

55-45-1 yea

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Seeger & Guernsey's Cyclopædia of

THE MANUFACTURES AND PRODUCTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Comprises Every Article made in this Country - Indexed and Classified - and under each article the names and addresses of

THE BEST MANUFACTURERS.

Complete in One Royal Octavo Vol. of over 1300 pp. Price in Cloth $6 In Morocco $8 In Flexible Leather $10.

INDISPENSABLE

To Buyers of Articles in all lines and Invaluable as a Statistical work.

Orders received at office of this Paper.

"THE PRINCE OF PEACE!" AGENTS WANTED A RICH HARVEST.

Everybody wants this "Beautiful Life of Jesus." By Mrs. Isabella M. Alden (PANSY). 600 royal octavo pages; 300 superb illustrations, richly-colored lithographics, tinted photogravures, exquisite engravings, representing the best works of ancient and modern masters; a matchless ALBUM OF SACRED ART. The author is the acknowledged peer of all writers on this noble theme. She is safe, graphic, attractive; has spent 15 years in painstaking preparation for this crowning work. ENDORSED BY CHAUTAUQUAN, CHRISTIAN ENDEVOR, and SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORKERS, introductions by Bishop J. H. Vincent and Rev. J. E. Clark ("Father Endeavor"), by subscription only. Exclusive territory. Prospectus now ready. Send $1.00 for outfit. Name choice of territory. INSIST ON SEEING "PRINCE OF PEACE!" Accept no other; write quick. Address, J. W. KEELER & CO., Publishers, 523 Chestnut St. Philadelphia, Pa. rep-aug 28-4t

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Use Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cures the worst Cough, Weak Lungs, Debility, Indigestion, Pain. Take in time. 50 cts.

HINDERCORNS. The only sure cure for Corns. Stops all pain. 15c. at Druggists, or HISCOX & CO., N. Y.

Centre County Veteran Picnic.

The Centre County Veteran Club will hold its Annual Reunion and Basket picnic at Philipsburg on Saturday, September 6th, next. D. F. Fortney, Esq will deliver the annual address. Gov. James A. Beaver, Hon. James Kerr M. C., of Washington, D. C., Ex-Gov. A. G. Curtin and Major R. W. McLaughley, of Huntingdon, Pa., with other prominent speakers will be present and address the meeting. A cordial welcome is extended to the entire community. This is expected to be the largest and best picnic ever held by the club. See large posters for the particulars of fare for the round trip, etc.

H. H. BENNER,
Secretary.

Scrofula Cured.

Mr. S. I. Brooks, of Monticello, Ga., writes: "When the best physicians failed to cure a case of scrofula of two years' standing, a few bottles of Swift's Specific (S S S) did the work. Therefore I do not not hesitate to pronounce S S S the best blood purifier in the land. I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from impure blood purifier in the land. I cheerfully recommend it to all who are suffering from impure blood.

Treatise on blood and skin diseases mailed free.

SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta Ga.

—Clinton county Democracy assembled in Lock Haven on Tuesday and put up the following ticket. Clinton's choice for Congress, M. F. Elliott, for State Senator, T. C. Hipple, Esq., James C. Quiggle was nominated for the Legislature, W. M. Everhart, for Sheriff; S. Woods Caldwell, for Treasurer; James W. Clark, for Associate Judge, and A. W. Brungard, for District Attorney.

Every mother should have Arnica & Oil Liniment always in the house in case of accident from burns, scalds, or bruises.

For sale by F. P. Green.

SPEER'S GRAPE WINES,

—ALSO—

UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE

Used in the principal Churches for Communion

Excellent for females weakly persons and the aged

ADOPTED IN HOSPITALS AS THE BEST FOR INVALIDS.

Speer's Port Grape Wine!

FOUR YEARS OLD.

THIS CELEBRATED WINE is the pure juice of the dead ripe Oporto Grape, raised in Speer's vineyards, and left hanging until they shrink and become partly raised before gathering. Its invaluable are unsurpassed by any other Wines. Being produced under Mr. Speer's personal supervision, it purity and genuineness are guaranteed by the principal Hospitals and Boards of Health who have examined it. The youngest child and the weakest invalid can use it to advantage. It is particularly beneficial to the aged and debilitated, and suited to the various ailments that affect the weaker sex.

TONIC AND STRENGTHENING PROPERTIES

It is in every respect A WINE TO BE RELIED ON Speer's Unfermented Grape Juice.

Is the juice the Oporto Grape, preserved in its natural fresh, sweet state as it runs from the press, by fumigation and electricity, thereby destroying the exciter of fermentation. It is perfectly pure, free from spirits and will keep in any climate.

Speer's Socialite Claret

It is held in high estimation for its richness as a Dry Table Wine, especially suited for dinner use.

Speer's P. J. Sherry

Is a wine of Superior Character and partakes of the rich qualities of the grape from which it is made.

Speer's P. J. Brandy

IS A PURE distillation of the grape, and stands unrivalled in this Country for medical purposes.

It has a peculiar flavor, simular to that of the grapes from which it is distilled.

See that the signature of "ALFRED SPEER Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS WHO KEEP FIRST CLASS WINES.

D & W o-a-w

EUREKA GROCERY COMPANY

BELLEFONTE

High St, Bush Arcade,

NEXT DOOR TO THE POST OFFICE

DEALERS IN

-Teas, - Coffees,-

AND ALL KINDS OF

FAMILY GROCERIES

ALSO AGENTS FOR CENTRE COUNTY FOR THE SALE OF THE

CELEBRATED

Redford Springs

MINERAL WATER

ALL KINDS OF

COUNTRY PRODUCE

RECEIVED IN EXCHANGE.

GOODS SOLD AT

Lowest Market Prices

CALL AND SEE US.

A. V. SMITH Storekeeper.

A Fine Set of Harness.

James Schofield says that, as a general thing, it is only once in a lifetime that lightning strikes in the same place; but fortune seems to strike him every little while—politically and in a business way. Did you see that $250 set of harness that Mr. Daniel Garman sported on Saturday evening? They are the finest set of silver mounted harness this side of Philadelphia, and as fine as any in the city.

Any person desiring a similar set of harness will have to leave their order with Schofield, if they want them home-made, as he is the only man in Central Pennsylvania that can make them. This is the third set of such fine harness that Mr. Schofield has made within 20 years, and they were the only really fine harness ever manufactured in Bellefonte. This first set he made was for Mr. H. Brockerhoff, and which cost $325; the next set was for Mr. T. R. Reynolds—cost $250, and now this set for Mr. Garman—which are really the finest harness of the three sets but, owing to a decrease in "raw material" Mr. Schofield was able to get them out for $250.

Can any other harness-maker show up a like record? If so Mr. S. would like to hear from him. In all cases he wants it understood that there was no high tariff on his goods. Mr. Garman had examined harness in the cities but preferring to encourage home industry, and especially when he could do better at home than abroad by placing his order with a man in whom he had all confidence, he gave his order to Schofield and now sports the finest set of harness in Centre county.

Judge Furst Decides.

Judge Furst on Monday rendered a decision in the matter of the will of Isaac Hawn, of Huntingdon county, which will be considered by those contesting the same as the final legal action and a prompt settlement of the estate of the deceased by the executor will follow.

For two years past the nephews and nieces of Isaac Hawn have been contesting the validity of the will made by the deceased in 1850, and every process of law was resorted to to effect a change.

The recent decision of Judge Furst was rendered in answer to the petition of nephews and nieces to set the will aside and grant an issue ordering the case to be tried before a jury. The court refused to grant the issue and ordered that the costs be paid by the petitioners.—Monitor.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill. makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told us she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, she bought a bottle and found herself benefitted from first dose, She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own house work and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery Keplinger's Drug Store, large bottles 50c and $100.

New Music.

We have received the following pieces of new music from Balmer & Weber, St. Louis, Mo., "Stay With Me,' "Lullaby," "When the Lilacs are in Bloom," "When I Know That Thou Art Near Me," "Beatrice," and the "Te Deum," Instrumental "Christmas Eve' and "Menuet." We have so often called attention to the excellent quality of the music published by this firm that the mere announcement to our readers that a piece of music is published by Balmer & Weber is a fit guarantee of its excellencies. All musicians should send to the above house for a price list of their publications.

"Great War Library."

Wanted! educated and energetic men to take orders for the "Great War Library," complete in ten volumes and sold on easy monthly payments. Contains the works of Generals Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, Crawford, McClellan and Custer. Good men easily earn $60 weekly. The grandest thing in recent years. Address C L. Webster & Co., 3 East 14th St., New York. a14-2t e o w —On reassembling Tuesday afternoon the Blair county Democratic Convention took three more ballotts for County Commissioner resulting in the choice of E. C. Kinch. For Poor Director George D. Smith, of Huston township is the victim. James Condron and H. G. Hackett, of Altoona, were placed in nomination for Auditors. Thomas J. Burke, of Altoona, was chosen to fill the delicate position of Chairman of the County Committee, and John A. Doyle was elected State Committeeman.

The Prince of Peace.

It is not often that we review such a book as "The Prince of Peace, or The Beautiful Life of Jesus"; by Mrs. Isabella M. Alden, whom the world knows and honors as "Pansy." As may be judged from its title, this book deals with a peerless theme.

Search the world around and the ages through, and no nobler specimen of manhood can be found than that presented in the man Christ Jesus. This is by no means a partizan judgment, but historically considered, this is a point generally conceded.

The title suggest the view made prominent in the book. It is the princely; presenting the royal side. In sketching his beautiful life, Mrs. Alden never loses sight of the loving, lowly, humenitarian side of Jesus' nature and work, but he is always the noble, exalted, princely friend of man. He is clearly above those among whom he moves; but he is not above them in unapproachable separateness. He is accessible for the lowliest, and when one comes to him, there is always for that one a moral uplift. The prince exalts his subjects every time.

The peaceful nature of his conquests are beautifully shown. The world has had long lines of princes who have ruled the nations; and of conquerors who have swayed national destinies on the fields of conquest; but this Prince is a greater conqueror than they all, and wields a wider soverignty, and yet peace is the watchword of his cohorts, as it was the song of angels who announced his birth.

One need not be assured that such a theme receives matchless treatment at the hands of Mrs. Alden. Her life long devotion to the interests of this Prince and her hearty love for all that pertains to his kingdom, guide her skillful pen and enrich her fervid rhetoric as she discourses on the great events of his career. It is not too much to say of her book that, while it will charm the child, it will also edify the man. It is rich in incident, clear in exposition, faithful in application, transparent in phraseology, and beautiful in all its parts.

The publishers, J W Keeler & Co., of Philadelphia have made a worthy book. Its generous, readable pages are adorned with a wealth of illustrations. Elegant colored lithographs, choice tinted photogravures, and a superb assortment of wood engravings adorn the pages. Bida, Hoffman, Plockherst, Defreggre, Fenn, and a host of other eminent artists are represented in the embellishments of this volume. Nobody can go astray in securing this book.

He is Kept Very Busy.

A recent visit to the dental rooms of Dr. A. W. Hafer found that gentleman too busy to talk and when a man is too busy to talk why his friends know that he must be pretty busy. However we took a "squint" around his rooms and we must say that the Doctor has the finest and best equipped dental parlors in Bellefonte. Everything is nice and cosy and he has every appliance there known to science for the quick and painless extraction of teeth. The Doctor puts out a very superior quality of new work—all of which he guarantees. For quite a spell now he has been so busy getting out new work that he has had to work way into the night. This, of itself is a guarantee of the kind of work he does.

Teacher—What are your boots made of?

John—Of leather.

Teacher—Where does the leather come from?

John—From the hide of the ox.

Teacher—What animal, therefore, supplies your boots and shoes and gives you meat to eat?

John—My father.

ST. JACOBS OIL

Sure Cure.

CURES PERMANENTLY

SPRAINS.

Suffered Years in Pain.

14 Sumner St., Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 11, 1888.

In 1851 I sprained my arm clubbing chestnuts; suffered years in pain and could not lift my arm. It was finally cured by St Jacobs Oil. JACOB ETZENSPERGER.

Testimonials Cheerfully Renewed. Chronic Cases the Best Cures.

St. Jacobs Oil Cures STIFFNESS. Stiff Neck, Soreness PROMPTLY & PERFECTLY; also SORE THROAT WOUNDS, CUTS, SWELLINGS Surely and Permanently sold by DRUGGISTS AND DEALERS. THE CHAS. A. VOGELER CO. BALTO. MD.

—Some time ago the DAILY NEWS gave a full description of the long distance telephone. There is now a line completed between Williamsport and Philadelphia and the papers speak as follows about it: "The long distance telephone is in operation between Williamsport and Philadelphia. Louis Wiker was the first person who talked over the line and the Philadelphia voices could be heard as distinctly as though only a few miles distant, and yet they were over 200 miles away. The long distance telephone will doubtless come into general use and be as common and as much in use as the shorter lines."

Nothing On Earth Will MAKE HENS LAY. LIKE Sheridan's Condition Powder!

It is absolutely pure. Highly concentrated. In quantity it costs less than a tenth of a cent a day. Strictly a medicine. Prevents and cures all diseases. Good for young chicks. Worth more than gold when hens Moult. "One large can saved me $40, send six for $5 to prevent roup," says a customer. If you can't get it send us 50 cents for two packs; five $1. A 1-4 pound can $1.20 post-paid; 6 cans $5, express paid. "THE BEST POULTRY PAPER," sample copy free. Poultry Raising Guide free with $1 orders or more. L. S. JOHNSON & Co., Boston, Mass.

Literary Notes.

"A Successful Man" is the title of what is probably the brightest American Story—typically American—which has appeared for many years. It is a story of life prominent in fashion and in politics, written by a member of New York' highest society who displays a genius as a writer destined to make her name famous—although she substitutes a nom de plume for her own well known one.

"A Successful Man" will appear in two parts in the Cosmopolitan Magazine—the first in the September issue—and is illustrated by Harry McVickar, the drawings being made from life from acting models who were guests and servants at a Long Island country house.

A high type of American politician—a man having something of the characteristics of a Blaine, with a little of the Daniel Dougherty perhaps—is brought by chance into the close society of a Newport married belle—one of those women mated to wealth and manly beauty, with keen sympathies unsatisfied by the intellectual calibre of her husband. Then comes a careful study of the self-made successful American—of the society girl of Newport drawn by one who knows her perfectly at her best and at her worst—of society not as it is imagined but as it exists—of the human heart by one who has evidently taken it in her hand and watched its every pulsation.

At every page the story is bright and clever, and we are much mistaken if it does not attract the widest attention.

Letter List.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O. unclaimed Aug. 25, 1890.

Harry A Bubb, Mr Collins Bumgardner, Mr John C Bolinger, Miss Clara Dean, Miss Lousia G Harper, Mr Wm A Logan, Mrs Olie Mayes, Dunken Laidle, Miss Becky Parker, Mr Samuel Rigling, Mr. Robert Tate, Mr John H Williams, Miss Josephine Womber, H Wright.

When called for please say advertised.

J. A. FIEDLER, P. M.

—Samuel Wirts, of Houserville wishes to inform the public that he is prepared to weave all kinds of cotton and woolen carpets at prices lower than the lowest. He can also furnish carpet chain and filling at reasonable prices. He does work on short notice and guarantees it to give satisfaction Give him a call. aug 7-2m

Cure Yourself.

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, one hundred pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2-cent stamps to pay the postage. Address A P Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

1st Lady.—Have you new Rubbers?
2nd Lady.—Why, no! These are the old ones dressed with

Wolff's ACME Blacking

It makes them look like new; and my shoes also dressed with it, hold their polish UNDER the rubber, even should the snow creep in.

Change a Pine Table to Walnut.
A Poplar Kitchen Press to Antique Oak.
A Cane Rocker to Mahogany.

See what can be done with 25c. worth of

PIK-RON TRY IT.

A PAINT THAT ONE CAN SEE THROUGH.

WOLFF & RANDOLPH, Philadelphia.

Ask in Drug, Paint and House Furnishing Store.

The Month of August.

August, the last month of summer, by the ancient Romans was named Sextillis, the sixth from March, till the Emperor Augustus changed the name to his own, because in this month Cæsar Augustus took possession of his first consulate, reduced Egpyt, and put an end to civil war. The Saxons named August the weed month, while the old Germans named it Weinkoch, the wine press month. The mythological representation of August is that of a naked man, with ragged streaming hair, holding up to his mouth with both hands a drinking horn, while at his side are a bundle of peacock feathers, a heap of melons, and a large drinking vessel.

Happy Hoosiers

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble," John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says; "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says Electric Bitterr is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life Only 50 cents a bottle, at Kepplinger' Drug Store.

"How warm it is!" said she, after finishing the second plate of ice cream.

"Yes," he replied, "It's half melting—I really don't think it's worth while to pay any more money for the stuff.

The Normal Completed.

The New Normal School building in Lock Haven, says the Democrat, is now about completed and by the time for the opening of the Fall term on September 1st will be in apple-pie order. The number of boarding students who have already engaged rooms is about 150 and the prospects for the school are exceedingly bright. The principal, Professor Eldon, made the Normal a complete success and is entitled to high commendation for his interest in the school and the ability he has displayed in its management. It is a home as well as a school and intellectual pleasure is joined in domestic happiness.

"Why, now I cannot get enough to eat," says one lady who formerly had no appetite but took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Family of Heavy Weights.

In the village of Worthington, Armstrong county, lives the family of Samuel Yockey, numbering six persons whose combined weight is about 1,300 pounds. The most remarkable member of the family is the youngest, a girl who is only eleven years of age, tips the scales at 304 pounds, and is increasing gradually every week. She is as tall a a full grown woman, and her mind has seemed to keep up with the growth of her body. She seems perfectly contented, has remarkably good health, and while she is not as active as children of her age generally are, she is not at all awkward.

WIDE-AWAKE TRADESMEN

have learned by experience that the only waterproof coat they can sell to a cowboy or hunter is the Pommel Slicker with the "Fish Brand" Trade Mark on it. They are the best waterproof saddle coats ever made. They keep the saddle, the horse's back, and the rider thoroughly dry and warm. No saddle sores from the galling of a wet saddle. When used as a walking coat, the extension front buttons back, and the Slicker is changed at once to an ordinary coat. Just try one, they cost but little and will prevent colds, fevers, rheumatism, and other results to exposure to the weather. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

Justice—'Pat, what made you drink?'

Pat—'Well sor, yer honor, I was timpted to do so.'

Justice—'Who tempted you to drink?

Pat—'That fellow over there. He lent me fifty cents.'

Young Butt (who has just proposed) If you cannot answer me now, dear Miss Archer, I am willing to wait.

Miss Archer—So am I. Make it four years.

Johnson. Why is the moon often spoken of as the silvery moon?

Jackson Because we get it in halves and quarters, I suppose.

If a man can laugh at no other time, he can generally laugh when the joke is on some one who once laughed at him.

Mrs Dorber. 'There Henry, I have finished painting the vase. Now, if I only knew where I could fire it.'

Mr Dorber 'What's the matter with the ash-barrel?'

'Will you marry me?'

'Ask papa?'

'No Gertrude. I'm willing to run the risk of marrying you, but I wouldn't tackle the old man for $5,000 000.'

Take Care, There is Danger

In allowing inactivity of the kidneys to grow through neglect. The deadly shoals of Bright's disease and diabetes will wreck the goodly bark of health if it is allowed to drift rudderless upon them. The bladder too, if inactive, and judicious medication does not speedily direct the helm toward the port of safety, will be whelmed by the quicksand of disease. In selecting a diuretic, let your choice fall upon Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which stimulates the renal organs without irretating and exciting them, two effects to be apprehended from the unmedicated stimuli largely resorted to. These have a tendency to react prejudicially. The Bitters invigorate the kidneys and bladder, in common with the nerves and digestive organs and so afford lasting aid. It also affords dual assistance in preventing and curing intermittent and remittent fever. Billiousness constipation and rhuematism it also subjugates. tf.

—It is bad enough when the ragged urchins on the street—who literally are nobody's boys—congregate on the street corners and call to every passer by. But when a lot of young gentlemen (?) assemble on the porch of the residence of one of Bellefonte's most respected citizens and make remarks about and call to passers by it is ten fold worse. Not only have they been taught better but they impose on the public by parading the street urchin beneath a gentleman's clothes.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

WHAT IS SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can It Be CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My daughter Mary was afflicted with scrofulous sore neck from the time she was 22 months old till she became six years of age. Lumps formed in her neck, and one of them after growing to the size of a pigeon's egg, became a running sore for over three years. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla, when the lump and all indications of scrofula entirely disappeared, and now she seems to be a healthy child." J. S. CARLILE, Nauright, N. J.

N. B. Be sure to get only

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

A Wonder.

It is really wonderful, how many individuals permit themselves to be hoodwinked by quack medicines and compounds of all kinds. A sure cure for nearly all diseases that flesh is heir to, are the oft spoken words on each bottle of this trash. Doctors of repute who have spent their days, and nights too, in their studies to learn if possible any new thing to prolong life, and to make life more enjoyable, have no hesitancy in recommending Klein's Silver Age Rye. Mr. Klein does not claim that it cures all ailments; but it is considered by all who know the goods; that it is a fine stimulant; that it is used in City Hospitals; that Physicians recommend it; nay prescribe it, and that it strengthens the weak. It is also admitted by all who know Mr. Max Klein that his many years in business have fitted him not only to deal fairly with the world, but made him the leader of his line in our state. His Pennsylvania Rye Whiskies, 6 full quarts, old and pure at five dollars are the wonders of the day. His wines, gins, brandies and in fact anything in the liquor line can not be excelled, as to price or quality, send for his complete price list & Catalogue and convince yourself His P. O. address is Max Klein, 82 Federal St., Allegheny, Pa.

Obituary.

This morning at fifteen minutes of seven o'clock, John Henry Gripp, cousin of H. A. Gripp, the artist, died at his home on east Juniata street of congestion of the brain. Last Wednesday evening about six o'clock he came home from his work, being employed in the Tyrone Iron Co's. works at Tyrone Forges feeling sick, and from that time until this morning when he died he gradually grew worse. His disease commenced with typhoid fever, but congestion of the brain caused his death.

On the 6th. of last February he was married to Miss Esther Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hezekiah Ewing, of Fairbrook, Centre county. The young wife has the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.

The remains will be taken to Graysville, Centre county, Monday morning and will then be interred in the cemetery of the Presbyterian church of that place.—Tyrone Herald of Friday.

—Mr. J. S. Mayes of the firm of J. S. Mayes & Co. marble dealers and tombstone makers, at Houserville Pa., is in town this week serving his county as a juror. Mr. Mayes has just recently gotten over a severe attack of brain fever and is not yet very strong. He can, however, act in the capacity of a juror although he is not able to do any work in his marble establishment. Mr. Mayes feels very impatient because of this fact as his is one of the few manufactories in Centre County that is over run with work. Of course, there is a good reason for him having so much work as the quality and style of the work they put out is equal, if not superior, to any work in the county.

The C. B. A. Annual Session.

From the Tyrone Herald.

The Centre Baptist Association comprising delegates from the Baptist congregations of Centre, Blair, Cambria, Huntingdon and Mifflin counties, will convene in sixteenth annual session at Tyrone, Tuesday morning of next week, September 2, at nine o'clock, and the convention will continue for three days, the day sessions being held in the Baptist church and night session in the First Methodist church. There will be about 175 delegates in attendance, who with other visitors will make the number present for the occasion, over two hundred persons. Rev. C. H. Fitzwilliam requests us to state that assistance in the entertainment of delegates by members of other congregations would be warmly appreciated by the Baptist people, whose number in Tyrone is not large. Those who will assist in such entertainment will please notify Rev. Fitzwilliam as soon as possible.

In Other Counties.

The Bedford county agricultural fair will be held on the grounds west of Bedford on September 30 and October 1, 2 and 3.

Last Thursday morning the jewelry store of H. C. Kinsloe, at Newton Hamilton, was entered and robbed of goods valued at $68.

Bedford Gazette: A hundred and sixteen sunflowers growing on one stalk is a curiosity to be seen in the garden of Samuel Ake, Esq.

Williamsport people are agitated over the condition of the water in the city reservoir. The health officer reports it as being mighty bad.

"Mark Twain."

WANTED.—Educated ladies and gentlemen to sell Mark Twain's new and remarkable book "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court." Sold by subscription only. 300 striking illustrations by Dan Beard. One agent sold 35 in five days; another sold 31 in three days; another took 25 orders in making thirty calls. 30,000 already sold. Choice territory still unoccupied. Address Chas. L. Webster & Co, 3 East 14th St, New York. aug 7-2t e o w.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above-named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y.

"The best thing about a vacation is the change it brings," said Mr. Bjenkins in a tone that showed he knew.

"Yes," assented Mr. Bjones; "and the worst thing about a vacation is the change it costs.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Billous Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS it will cure you.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Do you suffer with that tired and all gone feeling; if so, use SULPHUR BITTERS it will cure you.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS and health will follow.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS it never fails to cure.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will make your blood pure, rich and strong, and your flesh hard.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

Try SULPHUR BITTERS to-night, and you will sleep well and feel better for it.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3 2-cent stamps to A. P. ORDWAY & CO., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy, free.

DIRT BREEDS VERMIN

Of a good house-wife, who uses SAPOLIO, it is well said: "The mouse is muzzled in her house." Try it and keep your house clean. All grocers keep it.

Cleanliness and neatness about a house are necessary to insure comfort. Man likes comfort, and if he can't find it at home, he will seek elsewhere for it. Good housewives know that SAPOLIO makes a house clean and keeps it bright. Happiness always dwells in a comfortable home. Do you want cleanliness, comfort and happiness? Try SAPOLIO and you will be surprised at your success.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

50 FIFTY DOLLARS FOR LIFE SCHOLARSHIP PALMS BUSINESS COLLEGE

1709 Chestnut St., PHILADA., PA. (Both Sexes.) Position for Graduates. Time 3 to 4 mos. Best Equipped. Best Course of Study. Circulars free if you name this paper.

CAPE MAY GOSSIP.

Special correspondence.

CAPE MAY POINT, N. J., Aug. 21, '90.

Much of Mrs. Harrison's time during the past week has been spent at her easel. She has just finished her twelfth picture, and her instructor, a prominent Washington artist, informs me that she is really making rapid strides in her work. Some day since he made a sketch of the farm house and buildings belonging to the Point company, and worked it up in color, and carried it to the Presidential cottage for Mrs. Harrison's inspection. Mrs. Harrison was so well pleased with the picture, that she immediately sat down and began reproducing it, without consulting Mr. Moser, the painter. After finishing her self assigned task, she showed the work to the artist, who was astonished at the truthfulness of the reproduction.

—

He told me that he was positively unable to distinguish his own work a dozon feet away, and had it not been for a little stiffness in drawing and an indifference in coloring in the foreground, he would have had difficulty in determining which painting had come from his own hands. Mrs. Harrison is an indefatigable worker, always ready to take up her brush, and invariably expresses great pleasure when about to begin a new picture. She has become so much interested in her work of late, that she has several times excused herself from social obligations, in order to prosecute her study without molestation. Possessing, as she does, a bright sunshiny disposition, she is disposed to find pleasure even in the most perplexing studies, and what many indifferent art lovers would consider too troublesome to undertake, she plunges boldly into and thus accomplishes wonderful results. Sketching from nature is frequently regarded by learners as too irksome a task, and although one of the most valuable stepping stones to the pursuit of real art, it is often hastily passed over, or utterly disregarded altogether. Not so with Mrs. Harrison, however. She enjoys coming in contact with rugged mother nature and studying her everchanging magnificence.

—

Mrs. Harrison has discovered what every true artist has ascertained, that if one really wishes to attain distinction in art, one must sit humbly at nature's feet and study her ways. The sublimity of color, the mellowness of the atsmosphere and the life, and the movement of the sea and the sky overhanging it, have opened Mrs. Harrison's eyes to the importance of observing how trifles of sea and air, makes pictures of magnificent grandeur. Some of these sublime effects the President's wife has succeeded in catching and fastening upon paper and canvas. She has portrayed the dashing wave of the ocean and the placid water of little Lake Lily, with remarkable fidelity. The life and motion of one and the solitude and stillness of the other, have been most truthfully depicted, and Mrs. Harrison is certainly entitled to enconiums of praise for careful and conscientious work.

—

Col. B. K. Jamison's tally-ho coach, "Rambler," is becoming famous. Upon several occasions last week it drove up to the Presidential Cottage and took the inmates out for a ride. The most important excursion of the week was made on Wednesday, when the four spirited bay horses drew the distinguished family over the pretty country roads for a dozen or twenty miles. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Jamison, Mrs. Dimmick and Miss Blanche Willard. At a little country town, six or eight miles from here, somewhat inelegantly ycleped Fishing Creek, the entire party descended to terra firma and enjoyed a sumptuous repast of melons fresh from the field. Everybody was so delighted with the novel experience that there is a possibility of repeating the drive next week.

—

The Point is famous for its fine display of carriages of the most showy sort. They roll along the oceanside roadway in never ending lines. They come from Cape May in great numbers and drive constantly in the neighborhood of the President's cottage. These carriages and their occupants bring to view another phase of the free and easy spirit of the place, for of a fine afternoon one may see scores of women riding bareheaded, with gentlemen companions, in the easy dresses they had donned for lounging in hammocks or idling an hour upon the piazza. A great deal of courting and love-making is done in carriages, because the roads lead up and down the lonely beach, far away from the hotels to Cape May, or to the boat landing and around to Diamond Beach where the famous Cape May diamonds are found.

—

The sport of hunting these stones is indulged in by young and old and frequently pebbles of considerable value are found. When cut and polished by an expert lapidary, it requires an experienced eye to detect the difference between one of these bright gems of the shore from the brilliant sparklers of Brazil. Indeed they are frequently worn for years without detection. Mrs. Harrison had one given to her last season by a gentleman who excels in cutting and mounting them.

—

The Rutger's College Quartette consisting of Messrs. A H Smock, Loren Bragdon, Alex Van Wagoner and C W Van Zee gave two delightful song recitals last week. Members of the Presidential family were so pleased with the college boy's singing that they have been invited to appear at the President's cottage.

NEPTUNE.

One Thousand Dollars

I will forfeit the above amount if I fail to prove that Floriplexion is the best medicine in existence for Dyspepsia, Indigestion or Billiousness It is a certain cure, and affords immediate relief, in cases of Kidney and Liver Complaint, Nervous Debility and Consumption, Floriplexion builds up the weak system and cures where other remedies fail. Ask your druggist for it and get well. Valuable book "Things Worth Knowing." also, sample bottle sent free: all charges prepaid. address Franklin Hart, 38 Warren Street, N. Y.

D & w tf

What Is a Clever Woman.

What is really a clever woman?

A clever woman is one who looketh well after the ways of her own household.

A clever woman is one who undertakes nothing that she does not understand.

A clever woman is one who is mistress of tact and knows how to make the social wheels run smoothly.

A clever woman is one who makes the other woman think herself the cleverest.

A clever woman is one who acts like hot water on tea, she brings the sweetness and strength out of everybody else.

A clever woman is one whose ability is never unpleasantly felt by the rest of the world.

A clever woman is one who acknowledges her neighbor's right to live, who doesn't believe that she alone is the motive power of the world.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded, price 25 cents per box.

For sale by all druggists.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

Domestic Use for Ammonia.

A little ammonia in tepid water will soften and cleanse the skin.

Spirits of ammonia will often cure a severe headache.

Door plates should be cleansed by rubbing with a cloth wet in ammonia and water.

If the color has been taken out of silks by fruit stains ammonia will usually restore the color.

To brighten carpets wipe them with warm water in which has been poured a few drops of ammonia.

One or two tablespoonfuls of ammonia added to a pail of water will clean windows better than soap.

A few drops in a cupful of warm water, applied carefully, will remove spots from painting and chromos.

Grease spots may be taken out with weak ammonia in water; lay soft white paper over and iron with a hot iron.

When acids of any kind gets on clothing spirits of ammonia will kill it. Apply chloroform to restore the color.

Keep nickel, silver ornaments and mounts bright by rubbing with woolen cloth satured with spirits of ammonia.

100 Ladies Wanted

And 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys it is a posisive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. It is the best spring medicine known Large-size package, 50 cents At all druggist.

Fiskins—When John L. Sullivan has any money, I can tell you he makes it fly pretty rapidly.

Wabash—It's strange that he should be a spendthrift. Kilrain and others have found him very closefisted.

Miss Finn (of Vassar)—Paw, don't spread your napkin over your breast it's excessively vulgar.

Papa Finn—I have simply spread the napkin as a flag of truce, my child. I will take it down when the waiter removes that butter.

Short. I heard that Brown told a terrible lie about Smith, and that Smith didn't do a thing.

Smart. Well, no—not exactly—he simply let him lie.

Short. Same thing.

Smart Oh, no; he knocked him down in the gutter and then let him lie!

Forced to Leave Home.

Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call at their druggist's for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to-day for a free sample of this good remedy. The ladies praise it. Everyone likes it. Large-size packages 50 cents.

SUMMER FASHIONS AT SARATOGA AND NEWPORT.

Independent Waists: Fans: Jewelry: Fall Materials.

For afternoon drives at Saratoga and Newport, boas of curled ostrich feathers in pink, white, gray and black are very popular, and are also useful on the veranda and for the evening stroll. Cloth capes in great variety of color, come in for their share of approval, being generally beaded or embroidered on the yoke and around the edges, with flaring collar lined with ostrich feathers. White cloth capes, with black braided Vandyke yoke are considered very stylish, while the Troubadour cape with a long end thrown over the left shoulder is the latest addition to the cape species. White and pearl gray parasols are most used for carriage wear, and vary from the richest possible material down to simple white muslin over colored or white silk lining, handles being of ivory or light wood, occasionally ornamented with Dresden china. Pink is a very popular color for carriage toilets, and nothing is more charming than a combination of pink China silk with trimmings of white mousseline de soie toned down with black lace hat and black ostrich feather boa. One of the most striking toilets seen at Newport this season, and worn by a slender, pale young matron, is of crimson grenadine with wide and narrow satin stripes, the skirt formed of bias and straight panels in succession, long loops and bows of crimson ribbon giving finish, while the corsage and sleeves seemed a mass of puffings and fluffings intermixed with ribbon. In accordance with the soft, clinging materials of the present day, crape sashes five eighths of a yard wide with long, fringed ends are most popular; although surah is much worn; plaided sashes with a velvet stripe being also fashionable.

INDEPENDENT WAISTS.

Retain all their wonted popularity, as they rest upon the broad basis of utility as well as beauty, and from the simple surah waist for morning wear, to the elegant lace corsage for evening dress all grades and styles are noticeable. A very dressy design is round, quite full on the shoulders, the fullness kept in place by rows of narrow braid in contrasting color. about a quarter of an inch apart, (the upper end looped) forming the outline of a corselet, and the stylish effect of gilt braid on black lace, or on blue or green silk, maroon or heliotrope, may be readily imagined. The newest fans are of tinselled gauze, the sticks of ivory or delicately carved light wood extending to the upper edge of the fan, while tiny crescents or dew drops sparkle on the gauze surface. Sometimes a hand painted scene lends variety, the sticks showing on either side. The present rage for orchids has extended into jewelry, resulting in the production of gold enamelled orchids of all sizes and colorings, embellished with seed pearls and diamonds. Some of these exquisite creations are six inches across the flower, while others are very minute. The stems and vines supporting the orchids are in many cases double rows of small pearls and diamonds.

"BEYOND THE SHADOW OF A DOUBT"

plaids will be worn again, as in Lord & Taylor's sample books of Fall importations they occupy a prominent position; the greatest novelty in that line being plaids with an astrachan stripe. New Scotch cheviots have a rough finish, and are also striped and plaided Tartan plaids will again be popular and bourette effects in great variety of design and coloring will adorn the standard camel's hair. Crepe de chine will be largely patronized, and also plain and printed Bengalines. Prominent among the colors in these materials, may be observed Heliotrope, Dahlia and Solferino.

VERONA CLARKE.

John, have you seen that woman lately?

John in astonishment, What woman?

That woman picking grapes for Speer's Wines. Just see her in another column and read about it; the wines are found by chemists to be absolutely pure and equal to the best in the World. The Board of Health in Large Cities and leading Hospitals have adopted their use where wines are needed.

aug-7-1y

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease "Comsumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address REV. EDWARD A. WILTON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Miscellaneous.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M.D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

EVERY WATERPROOF COLLAR OR CUFF

THAT CAN BE RELIED ON

BE UP TO THE MARK

Not to Split!
Not to Discolor!

BEARS THIS MARK.

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

NEEDS NO LAUNDERING. CAN BE WIPED CLEAN IN A MOMENT.

THE ONLY LINEN-LINED WATERPROOF COLLAR IN THE MARKET.

Rep ap 24-1y

THE MARCHAL & SMITH PIANO CO.

ESTABLISHED 1859. MORE THAN 50,000 OF OUR PIANOS ARE NOW IN USE. INCORPORATED 1877.

PRICE $180.

Buy direct from the Factory and save the Expenses and Profits of the Middleman.

OUR OFFER We will send you a piano or an organ for trial in your own home, and if you don't like it you can send it back, and we will pay freight both ways. Send reference of your Banker or Merchant and we will fill your order promptly

PIANOS FROM $150 TO $1500

ABSOLUTELY PERFECT

A beautiful embroidered COVER with Stool and Book goes with each piano, and a Stool and Book go with every organ, making A COMPLETE OUTFIT with every instrument

We send, free to all who wish to buy, a beautiful Catalogue giving valuable information.

$35

ORGANS FROM $35.00 TO $500

EVERY INSTRUMENT IS FULLY GUARANTEED FOR SIX YEARS.

THE MARCHAL & SMITH PIANO CO. 285 East 21st St. New York.

EASTMAN COLLEGE POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., offers both sexes the best educational advantages at the lowest cost. Thorough instruction in ARITHMETIC and other ENGLISH BRANCHES, BOOKKEEPING, BANKING, CORRESPONDENCE, COMMERCIAL LAW, etc.; PENMANSHIP, STENOGRAPHY, TYPEWRITING, TELEGRAPHING, etc. The College is open all the year, and is a live, practical school, teaching young people to earn a living and carefully fitting them for honorable positions. Gold Medal awarded at Paris Exposition (World's Fair, 1889) for best course of study and plan of operation. Business houses supplied with competent assistants on short notice. No charge for situations furnished. For information and Catalogue address as above.

EASTMAN COLLEGE

rep aug 21-4t

FLORAPLEXION

Is an absolute, positive and permanent cure for Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation, Nervous Debility, Brights Disease, Diabetes and Consumption. It goes to the very root of all diseases caused by an impure state of the blood.

FLORAPLEXION is a highly concentrated and powerful extract of the most valuable and expensive herbs known to medical science, prepared from the prescription of a noted English physician, and cures when all other remedies fail. Thousands of the highest and strongest testimonials from grateful patients can be shown. The first dose inspires you with confidence.—Go to your druggist, purchase a bottle, and be cured.—Valuable book sent free to all. Address,

FRANKLIN HART, Warren St., New York.

Reb my-29-1y

Pianos - Organs.

The improved method of fastening strings of Pianos, invented by us, is one of the most important improvements ever made, making the instrument more richly musical in tone, more durable, and less liable to get out of tune.

Both the Mason & Hamlin Organs and Pianos excel chiefly in that which is the chief excellence in any musical instrument, quality of tone. Other things, though important, are much less so than this. An instrument with unmusical tones cannot be good. Illustrated catalogues of new styles, introduced this season, sent free.

MASON & HAMLIN Organ and Piano Co.
BOSTON, NEW YORK, CHICAGO.

Rep June 12-8t

HIRES'

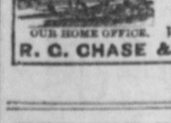
25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID. NO BOILING OR STRAINING. EASILY MADE.
THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS.

ROOT BEER.

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. Delicious and Sparkling. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES. PHILADELPHIA



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

July 24-4t

THRESHING MACHINES A Specialty

Simplest, Most Durable, Economical and perfect in use. Waste no Grain; Cleans it ready for Market.

Engines, Horse Powers, Saw Mills,
Force Feed Grain Drills, Hay Presses &c
Send for Catalogue and Special prices.

A. B. FARQUHAR CO.
Pennsylvania Agricultural Works, York, Pa
June 12-2m.

WANTED—AGENTS

TO SOLICIT ORDERS FOR OUR TREES, SHRUBS, VINES, &c.
STEADY WORK
For Honest, Industrious Men.

Salary & Expenses, or Commission if preferred.

We grow a full line of varieties adapted to Pennsylvania.

The Business Quickly Learned. Write immediately for terms.

OUR HOME OFFICE.

R. C. CHASE & CO., PHILA., PA.

Rep ap-24-3t E O W

LEARN SHORTHAND AND TYPE WRITING AT PALMER'S COLLEGE,

Catalogue FREE.

1006 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

POSITION SURE. Good Compensation. LESSONS BY MAIL OR AT COLLEGE. REMINGTON STANDARD TYPEWRITER.

Rep may

FORCE FEED PHOSPHATE

Grain Drills

A SPECIALTY

Threshing Machines.
Engines, Hay Presses,
Saw Mills.

Send for catalogue.

R. F. FARQUHAR CO., York, Pa

July24-6

PENNSYLVANIA

STATE COLLEGE

Fall Term Begins Sept. 20th, 1888.

This institution is located in one of the most beautiful and healthful spots of the entire Allegheny region. It is open to students of both sexes, and offers the following Courses of Study:

1. A Full Classical Course of four years
2. A Latin Scientific course
3. The following ADVANCED COURSES, of two years each, following the first two years of the general Scientific Course: (a) AGRICULTURE; (b) NATURAL HISTORY; (c) CHEMISTRY AND PHYSICS; (d) CIVIL ENGINEERING.
4. A short SPECIAL COURSE in Agriculture
5. A short SPECIAL COURSE in Chemistry.
6. A reorganized Course in Mechanic Arts, Combining shop-work with study.
7. A new Special Course (two years) in Literature and Science, for Young Ladies.
8. A Carefully graded Preparatory Course.
9. Special Courses are arranged to meet the wants of individual students.

Military drill is required. Expenses for board and incidentals very low. Tuition free. Young ladies under charge of a competent Lady Principal.

For Catalogues, or other information, address GEO. W. ATHERTON, LL.D., President, State College, Centre Co., Pa.

8-4t

FEEDING COWS FOR MILK.

Practical Farmer,

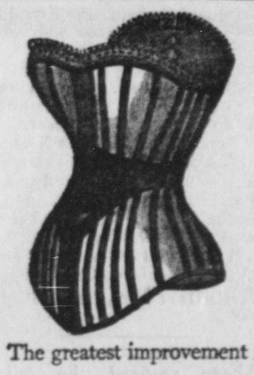
It is quite an item even during the summer to so feed and manage the cows as to secure the largest amount of milk. Grass is, of course, the best principal food during the summer, or at least as long as there is a good growth. Yet, it should not be depended upon entirely. Whether the milk is to be sold or made into butter, the quality and quantity is an item. Bran, corn meal and oat meal make up one of the very best rations that can be supplied to feed in connection with grass. Bran is a good feed alone, but it can be improved very materially by adding the corn and oat meal.

I find it profitable to feed bran to the milk cows regularly the year round; during the winter with corn and hay or oats. These can both be improved by running through a cutting box: and when this is done I prefer to bring the bran and meal with the roughness and feed altogether. But during the summer it is not necessary to feed hay, and the bran and meal can be fed together.

Meal is better than corn in the ear, there is less loss by failing to digest, and one of the principal advantages in cutting or grinding the feed is, that it is in a much better condition to digest. Feed dry, as it will be more thoroughly masticated. In feeding with cut hay or oats it will be an advantage to dampen slightly in mixing before feeding.

A gallon of the bran and corn meal, three fourths of it bran, will make a fair ration night and morning during the summer; but no rule can be given that will be best under all conditions or with all animals, and the best rule is to feed according to the needs of the animals. If the milk is an item to secure, it will nearly always pay to feed liberally, and in many cases it will be found best to increase this quantity. Something also depends upon this amount of feed in the pastures and the kind; clover is the best feed, but grass makes a good food, if they can have plenty of it.

It is not necessary to feed for fat, as a good milch cow will not get fat while giving milk regularly. But she should have all that she will eat up clean each day. Give the bran and meat night and morning and then give her the run of a good pasture and with plenty of water, a comfortable shade and a supply of salt, the largest flow of milk can be secured.



The greatest improvement in Corsets during the past twenty years is the use of Coraline in the place of horn or whalebone. It is used in all of Dr. Warner's Corsets and in no others.

The advantages of Coraline over horn or whalebone are that it does not become set like whalebone, and it is more flexible and more durable.

Dr. Warner's Coraline Corsets are made in twenty-four different styles, fitting every variety of figures—thin, medium, stout, long waists and short waists.

Sold everywhere.

WARNER BROS., Mfrs.,
New York and Chicago.

Modern Science

has discovered that all diseases are caused by

MICROBES

Therefore all diseases can be cured by destroying these Microbes, and the only remedy on earth that will accomplish this without harm to the patient is

WM. R. ADAMS MICROBE KILLER

It is a thorough blood purifier, a wonderful antiseptic, and containing no drug whatever, is perfectly safe.

The Microbe Killer is composed of distilled water impregnated with powerful germ destroying gases which permeate and purifies the entire system.

Send for our Book giving history of microbes, and discovery of this wonderful medicine. Free.

7 Light Street, NEW YORK CITY.

Ask your Druggist for it.

Agts for Bellefonte, Pa., C. M. Parrish

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

—The farmers are now surely getting enough of rain.

—For once in about 2 weeks all the trains were on time on Thursday.

—Shivers, but isn't it cold to-day? A man can almost think it is winter.

—Friday night was the night for holding inquisitions at the Sheriff's office.

—The Lewisburg local freight was almost four hours late on Friday evening.

—Not two weeks any more until the Bellefonte schools open. See notice elsewhere.

—The recent rain makes the atmosphere appear delightfully cool and refreshing.

—The chart for the opening play in Garman's Opera House is now ready at Parish's drug store.

—The latest styles in dress renders it hard to tell which is which—summer girls or summer boys.

—An exchange says a man ought to live a day or two after he dies to find out how famous he has become.

—Secure your seats for the opening performance in Garman's New Opera House. Chart at Parrish's drug store.

—Out of nine school teachers examined at Millheim by Prof. Etters, only three succeeded in getting certificates.

—Rev. Mr. Albright, who has been the guest of Rev. Noll for several weeks past, returned to his home on Wednesday.

—Hon. T. P. Rynder has announced his intention of being an independent candidate for State Senator. Go in for it Mr. T. P.

—The cyclone at Wilkesbarre and the railroad disaster at Boston are enough to almost appall the citizens of the United States.

—All ochools except the High school will open on Tuesday, September 2, 1890. The High School will open on Wednesday, September 10th.

—During the past few days the street commissioner has been cleaning up the streets. It now only remains to clear the pavements when everybody will be satisfied.

—S. F. Kline, of Howard, has declined to be a candidate for auditor on the democratic ticket. That is where Mr. Kline shows his good sense and foresight. He doesn't want to be knocked out.

—The typhoid fever continues to spread in the vicinity of Tusseyville. There are now about a half lozen persons afflicted nigh unto death with it. We trust, however, that all may recover.

—Edward K. Rhoads, the youthful and prominent coal dealer, was obliged to shoot a valuable horse on Wednesday because the animal had fallen and so injured itself as to be worthless. We are sorry for Edward.

—When a man is booming himself up to you hear him patiently. You don't know how soon you may want some one to listen while you do some blowing for yourself. That is the way of the world, you know.

—A representative of this paper has just returned from over on the "other side" and he reports all republicans entirely satisfied with last Tuesday's work, and many democrats declaring support for Wolfe and the whole ticket.

—The lithographs for the first show in the new Garman opera house are now being put up. They are a good advertisement of the famous Frank Mayo. It is not three weeks any more until the house will be opened.

—When a girl "shows her hand" in a "game" of love, the next "deal" she should "draw" a "full hand" and her "partner" should be careful to have "diamonds" the "trump" and he will win every time, even though the girl does "play against him."

—On Wednesday Mr. Joseph Christian, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Anna M. Reynolds, of Boalsburg, were united in marriage at the latter place by Rev. J. O. Davis, of Bellefonte. On the same day at State College a Mr. White and Miss Helen Foster were united in marriage.

—The Bellefonte band continues to practice regularly twice a week. It has now attained that state of proficiency that it need step aside for no band in Central Pennsylvania. The boys all take an interest in their work and hence Bellefonte has reason to be proud of its band.

—On Thursday evening, at 7.30 o'clock a very pretty wedding occurred at the residence of Mr. John Ozmer, of this place. It was the occasion of the marriage of his pretty and accomplised daughter, Della, to Mr. H. E. Williams, also of this place. The DAILY NEWS joins with their many friends in heartiest congratulations.

—We are reliably informed that Mrs. Moses Thompson, of Centre Furnace, died this morning at 2 o'clock, in her 79th year of age. This lady, who has lived all her life in the county, is most widely and well known, and greatly beloved by all who knew her. Three sons and two daughters are living and of her sisters Mrs. Gregg, Mrs Roland Curtin, and Mrs Wilson Potter survive her.

PATRONS' PICNIC.

The 17th Annual Exhibition, Patrons of Husbandry, Sept. 15th to 20th.

The Patrons of Husbandry are making very extensive preparations for their 17th Annual Picnic and Exhibition to be held in the Grange Park, near Centre Hall, on the Lewisburg & Tyrone railroad, during the week of the 15th to 20th of September.

The accommodations will far surpass those of former years. Upwards of five acres will be under roof and canvas. Over twenty five acres will be devoted to camping and exhibition purposes There will be pyrotechnic displays and grand illuminations at night under competent management.

A large canvas tent with seating capacity for several thousands, for public meetings, will be an attraction. The attendance promises to be larger than that of last year, which exceeded 15,000 people. Upwards of 200 tents are already engaged and arrangements have been made for any number of tents wanted But to insure tent accommodations arrangements should be made in advance to Capt. G. M. Boal, Centre Hall, Pa. Al tents will be floored. Price of 9x10 foot tent, $3.20. Parties can get as many tents as may be wanted and locate in groups, if preferred; but must furnish their own mattresses, blankets and camp outfits.

The number of agricultural implements offered for exhibition is already double that of last year, and ample railroad siding will be provided to handle heavy machinery. All exhibits will be returned free of charge, the exhibitor paying the freight one way. Ample water supply to run steam engines and machinery.

All trains pass through and will stop on the grounds, and a railroad office will be opened for the accommodation and information of the people. A train dispatcher will be on the ground to insure prompt moving of trains. Trains will be run every few hours for the convenience of those coming or leaving.

Railroad tickets will be sold to the public, without ticket orders, at one fare for the round trip, good for the week, over the Lewisburg & Tyrone, Bald Eagle Valley and Pennsylvania railroads between Harrisburg and Williamsport, Lock Haven and Tyrone, Lewistown and Sunbury. Tickets will be sold on ticket orders at one fare for the round trip, over all the Pennsylvania system of railroads, good from Friday Sept. 12 until Monday Sept. 22. These orders can be had by addressing the Chairman, Leonard Rhone, Centre Hall, Pa.

Large and handsome exhibition stabling will be put up for horses and cattle securely covered, with a separate building for feed outfit, in charge of Mr. Geo. Gingerich, superintendent of stock department.

For further information address

LEONARD RHONE, Chairman,
Centre Hall, Pa.

The Home Paper.

It is not out of place to say a word in our own behalf once in awhile and we take this occasion to do so.

Have you ever thought of what follows?

When you get married to the brightest and best girl in the country, where did you look for that notice that meant so much to you, and so little to anybody else? To your Home Paper.

When your home was invaded by the blue eyed girl, or the bouncing baby boy to whom did you make it your business to convey early information as to the sex, the time and weight? To the editor of that Home Paper.

In after years, when some manly young fellow takes the blue eyed girl to a home of his own, or your once bouncing boy—now a man—is given a partnership in the business because he had just brought home somebody else's daughter and set up an establishment of his own, to whom do you personally exhibit the wedding presents and load up with the bride's cake, and to whom do you look for that complete description of the interesting event, down to the last pickle fork and individual salt, which once more means so much to you and a few others, and so little to anybody else? To this same editor of this same Home Paper.

And when trouble comes in the home, and you add to your possessions that desolate bit of reality, the lot in the cemetery, and somehow the sun doesn't seem to shine just as it used to, and there's the flutter of crape at the door and the odor of the tuberose in the front parlor, and the chair that has been for years beside yours at the fireside and opposite you at the table is vacant—when all this happens, who makes it his business to write in tender strain of the one whose life has grown to be a part of yours, and whose sympathy and good deeds to others have long been known and recognized, if never publicly announced? The editor of the Home Paper; and he's only too willing to do the little that he can to help you over the hard spot in the road.

And all these years you've advertised in this Home Paper, and done what you could to help the editor fight your battles in municipal and county matters, and encouraged him as he has worked to build up the town and bring business to it?

Of course you have, and it has paid! —Ex.

SNOW SHOE NOTES.

Snow Shoe had quite a new sensation Tuesday in the shape of a cyclone. All that saved our little village from serious results was that the cloud was too high. The large barn on the Crider farm was completely demolished, another large one was unroofed; an end of the house occupied by Mr. Harnish was damaged A buggy blown across the field; Mr. Uzzle's young orchard was badly demoralized and some of the buildings damaged.

Hon. J. H. Holt registered at the Mountain House on Wednesday.

Miss Kate Cheesman, of Washington D. C., is the guest of our worthy townsman, Mr. Calvin Cheesman.

Mrs. Hunter, formerly of this place, but now of Cataract, spent Monday here among her numerous friends.

Mr. Cameron Boak has recovered from his recent illness, we are glad to say.

Major J. A. Wolfe, the nominee for Sheriff, on the Republican ticket was in town on Wednesday. Success to you Major.

Capt. Bogart spent two days in Bellefonte. He was one of the delegates to the Republican convention.

Robt. Gilliland and family returned home from Bigler campmeeting on Monday evening.

Charles Noll, one of Bellefonte's telephone men, was in our little town of the "Shoe" on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Julia Valentine and two friends passed through Snow Shoe on Wednesday.

Snow Shoe will have another game of base ball on Thursday. We wish them success and an interesting game.

It is rumored that a special train will be run on Sunday next over the Beech Creek road to Bigler. Hope it is correct.

Miss Carrie Lingle, of Philipsburg, is the guest of Miss Stella Nolan.

Mrs. M. McMuray and Mrs. Jno. Regan spent Monday at Karthaus.

Mr. Harry Blair and wife, of Tyrone, accompanied by two friends, spent Wednesday at the Mountain House.

Don't forget the picnic held by the members of St. John's church on next Saturday, 23d inst.

Mr. and Mrs. Dagget of Bellefonte, and interesting son and friend who spent Wednesday at the Mountain House left for their home Thursday morning.

FIDELES.

A Hearty Welcome.

The Philipsburg Journal says "On the return of the successful candidates last night a large crowd was at the station to give them a hearty welcome, notwithstanding the heavy rain that was falling. On the train coming in sight the ameteur band made things lively, added to which the lusty cheering of the crowd rendered the scene a very animated one. A procession was formed, headed by Capt. Steele Crissman, the indomitable leader, and the candidates, delegates and a large crowd of admirers, followed to the lively strains of the band. Colored lights were burnt en route. From the steps of the Lloyd House Capt. Fryberger and Major Wolfe in felicitous language, expressed their surprise at the hearty reception that had been accorded them. The convention had been a success and although three candidates had been elected from Philipsburg they had left nothing but good feeling behind them.

Mr. J. B. Childs was called for and he responded with one of his characteristic speeches which as usual was full of enthusiasm."

Millheim Matters.

Mr. Woodring, on West Penn street, has been improving his property this summer by having a new picket fence built around his front yard and also having a concrete pavement made along the entire breadth of his lot.

County detective, Capt. Mullen, was in town on Monday and stopped at the Musser House.

Many Millheimers took in the campmeeting at Penn Cave Station on last Sunday. There was a large crowd in attendance.

Detectives have been placed on the Pennsylvania railroad's trains, it is said, for the purpose of arresting all persons who try to steal a ride. If caught they will be fined $10 and costs.

Fine Potatoes.

J. L. Metzgar, a farmer in the lower end of Centre county, who attends the market here, left a big potato at this office this morning which measured eight inches in length and six in circumference. It was of the Dunmore variety and Mr. M. says he has already brought 40 bushels of them to market, selling them at a dollar a bushel. They are certainly magnificent potatoes, and Mr. M. evidently understands how to raise them. Many people are complaining that their potato crops are failures, but his don't seem to be.—L. H. Democrat.

—Lieut. J. Kerr, of Indiana, is visiting Lewistown, Huntingdon, Bedford, Bellefonte, Hollidaysburg, Johnstown, and Blairsville this week inspecting the different National Guard ranges and for the purpose of selecting the best score in the different companies for the Fifth Regiment team for the Second Brigade shoot at Indiana on September 12th and 13th.

Death of an Esteemed Lady.

With deep regret we announce the death of this worthy lady which occurred at her residence on Main street on last Sunday morning about 6 o'clock her age being 53 years, nine months and 18 days. She had gone through a prolonged sickness, suffering from dropsy for more than a year. At times she would improve and have hopes for her recovery But at last it terminated in her demise. On Saturday night she was blessed with sound sleep from which she awakened half an hour before her death telling her husband how well she had slept. After that she fell asleep and slept the sleep from which none ever wakes.

The subject of this notice was born in Haines township, near Fowler's on the 29th of October, 1837, her maiden name being Mary Winter. When quite a small girl she was adopted by Adam Moore, deceased, late of this place, in whose family she was raised. On the 25th of June 1856, she was married to our townsman Michael Ulrich, which union was blessed with seven children, three of whom preceeded her to eternity. Samuel, William, Alice and Hezzar remain to mourn her death, along with the bereaved husband. They have lost a kind mother and affectionate wife, while she has gained eternal peace.

She was a consistent member of the Lutheran church, and led a quiet christian life. As a neighbor she was always ready to lend a helpful hand and at the sickbed of others she was a gentle and loving nurse. When her time of suffering had come she bore her affliction with fortitude and resignition leaving all things to the will of God. The funeral took place yesterday forenoon, when services were held in the Lutheran church, Rev. Wolf, the pastor officiating assisted by Rev. W. H. Stover. Interment in Fairview Cemetery. The community deeply sympathize with the sorrowing family in their hour of affliction. —Millheim Journal.

Too Much Annie Rooney.

It doesn't matter where you go,
In your ears it's ringing—
"She's my Annie, I'm her Jo"—
The Rooney business, don't you know,
That everybody's singing.
Everybody knows the thing;
Everybody's spooney—
Save the small majority
That's being driven luny.
Organs grind it in the street;
Mr. Dennis Mooney
Keeps awake upon his beat
To whistle "Annie Rooney."
In the woods the phebe birds
Sing the song without the words;
Cats upon the garden fence
Render it with stress intense;
Even young Babboony
Now and then removes his cane
From his mouth, adjusts his brain,
And, in accents full of pain,
Hums "Miss Annie Wooney."

Literary Note.

The Forum for September will contain a political essay on "Money Interests in Political Affairs," by E. L. Godkin, editor New York Evening Post, in which Mr. Godkin traces to the growth of protection the enormous and alarming increase of the influence of money in politics which he regards as the most important political fact of our time. In the same number Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, replies to Senator Chandler's recent article on "The Federal Control of Elections." Other articles in this number will be "The Training of Teachers," by President G. Stanley Hall, of Clark University; "The Christianity of the Future," by Professor John S. Blackie, of Edinburgh, Scotland; "The Latest Astronomical News," by Professor Charles A. Young, of Princeton; "Protection Against Tornadoes," by Lieut. John P. Finley; as well as articles by Simon Sterne, Edward Everett Hale, James E Murdock, M. J. Savage and Alice E. Ives

Game Laws.

For the benefit of the sporting fraternity we publish the following concerning the time for the killing of the different kinds of game: Birds—Turkey, from October 15th to January 1st; ducks and geese, from September 1st to May 15th; plover, from July 4th to January 1st; quail, from November 1st to December 15; pheasants, from October 1st to January 1st. Animals—Deer and elk, from October 1st to December 15th; squirrels, from September 1st to January 1; rabbits, November 1st to January 1st. Fish—Brook or speckled trout, from April 15th to July 15th, lake trout, from October 1st to January 1st; black bass, pike, pickerel and salmon, from June 1st to January 1st; German carp from September 1st to May 1st.

A Regular Blizzaad.

Dispatches in the morning papers announce that a terrible cyclone passed over the City of Wilkesbarre on Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock almost desolating the city. Thus far there have been reports of twelve lives lost and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed. In Snow Shoe, this county, there was a regular blizzard at the same time, unroofing houses, tearing up trees and creating havoc generally, but nobody was killed.

—Hon. John H. Orvis, formerly additional law judge of the Centre, Clearfield and Clinton county district and after the districts were changed president judge of Centre and Huntingdon counties, was in the city yesterday, as was likewise Hon. H. C. Parsons, of Williamsport: The gentlemen looked as if they were not on pleasure but on business bent.—L. H. Democrat.

A New Magazine.

The Polytechnic is the name of a new magazine to be published in Chicago, the initial number of which will be issued next month. Like the London Magazine of that name it will be the organ of a Polytechnic Institute, which in this case has been lately started in Chicago, and will be modeled after the famous London institute of similar name an interesting account of which was given in the "Century" for June. The first number will be largely descriptive of the work of the Institute, especially its Trade Schools, a peculiar feature of which is that students may earn their expenses while in attendance, and can learn almost any trade. As this promises to solve the vexed apprenticeship question, all Master Associations are warm supporters of the movement. An article on the new Evening Medical College of Chicago is also included in this number. The ladies will be interested in the description of the Cooking, Millinery and Dressmaking schools of the Chicago Polytechnic Institute. Published at the S. E. Corner Madison Street and Fifth Ave., Chicago, Ill. Sample copy 10 cents.

—The complete novel in Lippincott's Magazine for September is contributed by Katharine Pearson Woods, author of that remarkable book, "Metzerott, Shoemaker." Miss Woods, like Mr. Edward Bellamy, has won sudden and wide fame by the advocacy of certain forms of socialism, and this, her latest novel, is directed against the "Sweating System," which has been exciting a great deal of antagonism both in America and England, and which stands greatly in need of reform. The story is entitled "The Mark of the Beast," and has that power about it which springs from an earnest purpose, while it is crowded with strong scenes and dramatic situations. It is a story that everybody will want to read. A sketch of Miss Woods, by Hester Crawford Dorsey, appears in the body of the magazine.

He Peddled the Jug Around.

On Wednesday evening a man by the name of Bill Reed was arrested for giving liquor to minors and also selling without a license. Bill represented a traveling bar. He had a jug in his hand and a glass in his pocket and was traveling the streets dealing out the "stuff" at 10 cents a drink. He was selling drinks fast but the police got "onto him" and now Bill langnishes in the "jug" on the hill and when His Honor, Judge Furst, gets a chance at him Bill will likely "go west."

—A grand hop was given by A. Wilson Norris, Jr., in the Bush Arcade Friday night. At about nine o'clock the merry young couples began to arrive and by half past nine all were dancing. Messrs. Chas. Moore and Chas. Cruse furnished the music. Among those present from a distance were Miss Edith Boak, of Snow Shoe, Mr. and Miss Thomas of Baltimore, Vance McCormick, of Harrisburg and Frank Morrell, of Philadelphia. The dance broke up in the wee small hours of the night.

—The wedding ring has given rise to curious superstitions, many of which are prevalent even at the present day. It is considered unlucky by very many when the ring comes off the finger, whether accidentally or from forgetfulness on the part of the newly married. Others believe that when a ring has worn so thin as to come in pieces, either the owner or her husband will die; a belief which is sure to be fulfilled—in time.

—Hiram Ray, brother of S. D. Ray Esq., is lying very ill with typhoid fever in Altoona. He has been sick for about five weeks. On Thursday Dr. R. L. Dartt went up to see him. His brother Calvin, and his father have been nursing him and now Calvin, too, is sick. We hope to soon hear of the recovery of both the young men.

—It was but a brief space of time after the chart for the new Garman opera house was put up until there were over one hundred seats taken. Since that they have been going quite fast and if you want a good seat you had better get it soon as they will all be gone before you know it. Chart and tickets at Parrish's drug store.

—Some time ago the officials of the Lutheran church held a meeting and resolved to go on with the erection of their new church on the corner of Allegheny and Linn streets. Seems to us that they are a little slow putting the resolution into force, and, if they don't soon go to work, winter will be here when they can't go.

Musser—Hettinger.

On Tuesday evening, William S. Musser of Spring Mills, and Miss Clara Hettinger, of Penn Hall, were married at the Lutheran parsonage at Centre Hall, by Rev. Fischer. The groom is the station agent at Spring Mills and is well known and popular young man and has made a good choice in a helpmate, Miss, Hettinger.

—This is pretty cold weather to wander along the sea shore and listen to what the "wild waves are saying."

Only Temperance Bitters Known.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — PURELY — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — VINEGAR BITTERS

GRANDEST - MODERN - DISCOVERY
Triumph of Pharmacy
The only true practical
ELIXIR OF LIFE AND HEALTH.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE, far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called

LIQUID LIFE,
since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonfuls.

It is too much to assert that the equal of Vinegar Bitters does not exist, and no counterpart or compound with similar virtues has ever been known

CALIFORNIA,
If remarkable for nothing else, would be immortalized by the production of the medicinal fruits, roots and herbs of which this Bitters is composed. Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney diseases, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. The discovery was partly accidental but the present

PERFECT BITTERS IS THE RESULT OF SCIENCE.
Millions of sufferers have gratefully and gladly endorsed, during the past quarter of a century the wonderful success of this

PHENOMENAL TONIC OF THE WORLD.
In order to meet every probable demand, two formulas of the same ingredients are now put up.

THE OLD STYLE IS STRONGER, SLIGHTLY BITTER, AND MORE CATHARTIC.

THE NEW STYLE, PLEASANT TO THE TASTE, AND EXPRESSLY ADAPTED TO DELICATE WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

REMEMBER,
There is no disease of low vitality, debility of functions, or nervous prostration for which

VINEGAR BITTERS IS NOT CURATIVE, and its singular power over the lower organisms renders it the implacable foe of

THE DEADLY MICROBE AND OMNIPRESENT BACTERIA in malarial diseases, cholera, consumption, internal diseases, &c., and so great is its power as a germicide that it is an

UNEQUALLED VERMIFUGE.
A book could be written of its virtues, and another of testimonials, but it is only necessary to remember its general action upon the liver, blood, brain and nerves, to realize its use in a majority of the ills that flesh is heir to, and that no family should ever be without a bottle of

OLD AND NEW STYLE VINEGAR BITTER IN THE HOUSE.

Send for our Ladies book. Address
Address R. H. McDONALD DRUG CO.
2 Washington St., New York

"O, ah, let me see, what do you give for a cold on the chest?" asked Jones, in a sort of indifferent tone, of a doctor with whom he was slightly acquainted, as he met him on the street. "Advice," was the laconic reply. So do we. We advise you not to neglect that hacking cough and drowsy feeling, the coated tongue, the failing appetite, the indigestion and general lassitude and debility—that "tired feeling," as so many express it. Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in time, and it will not disappoint. It is not only the most wonderful alterative, or blood-cleanser, known to medical science, but also possesses superior nutritive and tonic or strength-giving properties. For Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, accompanied with lingering coughs, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is absolutely unequaled as a remedy.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Short Breath, Consumptive Night-sweats, and kindred affections, it surpasses all other medicines. It's the only lung remedy, sold by druggists, guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money refunded.

$500 OFFERED for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. By its mild, soothing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases, no matter of how long standing. Only 50 cents. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Dr. Grosvenor's
Bell-cap-sic
PLASTER.
Gives quick relief from pain.
Rheumatism, neuralgia, pleurisy and lumbago cured at once. Genuine for sale by all Druggists.

Married.

On Wednesday, the 20th inst., at Boalsburg, Pa., by the Rev. J. O. Davis, at the home of the bride's mother, Judge Joseph Christian, of Richmond, Va., to Mrs. Anna Reynolds, of Bellefonte, Pa. No cards. Judge and his wife left on the evening train for the White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

300,000 New Pensions.

New law. 200,000 soldiers, and nearly all widows, parents and children get pensions. Invalid pensioners entitled to increase. Apply at once to Soule & Co., Box 9, Washington, D. C. for blanks and instructions.

Mention this paper.—Aug-21-1 m.

Bellefonte Republican,

CHAS. L. GATES, - - LESSEE
Editor and Business Manager.

Local Department.

—If it continues this cold it may snow before long.

—It looks as if it might get warm again—next summer,

—General Hastings spent Sunday at his home in this place.

—The next legal holiday will be Labor Day on September 1.

—On last Saturday there was a quarter of an inch of snow at Milton, this State.

—The man who will mind his own business will have steady employment.

—How many Bellefonters went to the Grangers picnic at Williamsport this week ?

—There don't seem to be anybody complaining about the absence of water lately.

—The Bellefonte band gave an open air concert in Diamond Square on Monday night.

—If that wasn't a good old-fashioned rain on Tuesday night we would like to be informed what is.

—The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs A. J. Gorton was out about five hours before a verdict was reached.

—There are quite a number of changes in the provision and grain market to day. See market report elsewhere for full particulars.

—Have you selected your seat for the opening night of the new opera house ? If not you had better do so at once, as they are going fast.

—There are more people in Bellefonte in attendance on court this week than there has been at any time since the last murder trial:

—The Centre County Medical Society will meet in the Wheelman's Club House, at Philipsburg, on Tuesday, September 26th, at 9 o'clock p. m, —Our friend, Col. D. S. Dunham, has joined the court house ring, He is this week serving the county as a tipstave in the court now in session.

—E. B. Weaver, the station agent who departed so suddenly from Osceola a short time ago, has returned home, according to a Tyrone paper.

—John Irvin Hagerman, Clinton county's efficient court reporter, is reporting the session of court this week in the absence of W. F. Reber, Esq.

—W. T. Achenbach, of Williamsport will come to Bellefonte on Thursday to open up his new jewelry store in the building on the northeast corner of the Diamond.

—Now that the P. R. R. has beaten Bellefonte this year they will have to return next season and play the decid ing game as last year Bellefonte beat the P. R. R.

—Mrs. James Alexander died on Monday at five o'clock after a lingering illness of many weeks. She will be buried this Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Lock Havenites are rejoicing in the fact that a circus is heading that way. We believe there is one exhibiting in Sunbury to-day and that is about as close as Lock Haven can get to one.

—The little gathering on Saturday in honor of the 80th birthday of Mr. E. C. Humes wes a complete surprise to that gentleman, Mr. W. P. Humes having invited his friends unknown to his father —Mr. Wm. Lehman, has brought his family from Bellefonte and occupy the house lately vacated by H. U. Hoffer, on Ninth street, the property of Simon Nolan. We gladly welcome the Lehman family to our town again. In this case Bellefonte's loss is Philipsburg's gain.—Journal.

—Blair county democrats met in session in Hollidaysburg on Monday and put up the following part ticke: Congress Thomas H. Greevy ; Assembly, O. H. McAllister ; Commissioners, C. Blythe Jones and E. C. Kinch. The convention then adjourned.

—The Hill farm mine near Dunbar is still ablaze. All attempts to extinguish the flames have been futile. A large fan has been erected and put in operation and the mine closed up. They expect to subdue the flames in a few months in this manner.

—The Tyrone Herald says: The child of a Hungarian, who is employed below the Forge, and wife, died Saturday morning and while waiting on the undertaker the dead body was laid out on one end of the table while the grandfather of the child and several companions were playing cards on the other end.

—Sunday's Philadelphia Press contained a column and a half article on the oldest woman in Central Pennsylvania, Mrs. Eliza Stanton, of Buffalo Run. The article was written by the Bellefonte correspondent, Mr. James R. Hughes, and illustrated by illustrations made from photographs of herself and abode taken by Mr. Charles Moore. Mrs. Stanton is now 115 years old. Mr. Hughes is an able and enterprising correspondent and always gets "on to all" the news.

Patrons' Exhibition.

TO BE HELD BY THE P. OF H. OF CENTRAL PENNA., SEPTEMBER 15 to 21.

Exhibits Returned Free Of Charge.

Grange Park, near Centre Hall, the Place of the Exhibition—It will Continue Six Days—Full Particulars of the Picnic for the Readers of this Paper:

We invite public attention to the 17th Annual Picnic and Exhibition of the Patrons of Husbandry of Central Pennsylvania to be held on the 15th, 16th 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th of September in Grange Park at Centre Hall station, on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad. It is easy of access from the south and east, via., Montandon on the Philadelphia and Erie and Northern Central Railways, from the north, via., Lock Haven and Bellefonte, and the west, via. Tyrone and Bellefonte.

Over 15,000 people were in attendance last year, There are good accommodations either by hotels or tents with good boarding houses.

A rare opportunity is offered to manufacturers and farmers to exhibit stock and machinery; complete buildings and railroad accommodations for visitors and exhibitors. The railroad passes through the grounds with proper platforms and unloading facilities. Telegraph and Telephone offices are on the ground.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENTS.

Under an arrangement with E. B. Westfall, Supt., P. & E. & L. & T. R. R. shipments for the exhibition to be held in Grange Park, will be charged regular current rates to Centre Hall, but all such shipments after the exhibition, if unsold and reshipped will be returned free to the original point of shipment, over any of the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad system by which they came. This free return will only be granted upon presentation of the original paid freight bill and a certificate signed by the proper officer of the exhibition to the effect that the exhibits are unsold. In addition to the above mentioned privileges granted, arrangements have been made by which all camp equipage will be carried free.

Articles for exhibition must be consigned to the owner at Centre Hall Station, Centre county, Pa., on the Lewisburg and Tyrone Railroad. The freight must be prepaid.

All articles for exhibition should be shipped in good time so that they may reach Centre Hall the week before the picnic. Upon receiving authority from exhibitors we will have goods unloaded on the grounds. A reasonable charge of course will be made for unloading goods.

While the picnic management will not be responsible for breakage that may occur in unloading or reloading goods in the Park, yet the greatest care will be taken to prevent any damage to exhibits.

The Adams Express Company have an office at the Railroad station ; also there is a telegraph office and telephone communications direct to picnic grounds.

Machinery will be allowed to be driven by steam power and belting, but exhibitors must find their own belting and arrange for steam power.

Exhibitors will be charged a small entrance fee, which will entitle them to the free use of the telephone at the following rates for exhibition :

Class 1, articles retail price $10, or less, entry fee 50 cents.

Class 2, retail price $10 to $25, entry fee $1.00.

Class 3, retail price $25 to $50, entry fee $1.25.

Class 4, retail price $50 to $100, entry fee $1.50.

Class 5, retail price over $100, according to character of exhibit and space occupied.

Class 6, pianos and organs and articles requiring to be placed under cover will be charged according to space occupied.

No exhibitor will be charged a less sum than 50 cents.

Parties having a number of articles on exhibition will be allowed a reasonable reduction from the above entry fees.

These nominal charges are only made to cover necessary expenses for the proper accommodation of exhibitors and providing necessary telephone arrangements.

There will be a delivery post office on the grounds and all mail matter should be directed to Grange Park, Centre Hall, Pa. All exhibitors and others desiring tents for shelter and lodging can be supplied at $2.50 size 9x20 feet for the week. All parties tenting must find their own blankets and bedding; those desiring tents should order early.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell tickets on ticket orders at one fare for the round trip, good Friday, the 12th of September, until Monday the 23d. The Lewisburg and Tyrone, the P. and E. and the Bald Eagle Valley Railroads will sell tickets to the public without ticket orders during the entire week of the picnic.

Exhibitors of large machinery should be on hand on Saturday. Exhibitors will be allowed to bring their own tents if preferred.

Exhibitors of live stock will be charged a nominal price for hay and straw.

Those coming from the south and east should ship via Montandon; those from the west via Tyrone and Bellefonte; those from the north via Lock Haven.

Trains will be run to and from the picnic grounds every few hours, all trains stopping in the Park.

Any number of ticket orders can be had by applying to the chairman in time. Admission free.

For any further information address,
Chairman, LEONARD RHONE,
Centre Hall, Pa.

Hastings and the World's Fair.

Editorial in Sunday's Philadelphia Times.

The name of General Hastings, now Adjutant General of this State, has been prominently discussed for the position of Director General of the World's Fair. The position is one of exceptional responsibility and requiring exceptional executive qualities, but General Hastings is one of the very few men of the country who could fully size up to the great occasion.

General Hastings is no untried man in the line that best exhibits fitness for the Director Generalship of so vast an enterprise as the Chicago World's Fair. His administration of affairs in Johnstown after the late appalling flood proved his rare combination of percepiive and executive faculties. He was the first State official on the field of death, having reached it by almost superhuman efforts, and he was the first to bring a semblance of order out of the fearful chaos that prevailed. He was there more than Director General—he was Dictator from the supreme necessities of the case, and how bravely, how wisely and how humanely he fulfilled his most trying mission is attested by the grateful acknowledgments of the whole Commonwealth.

General Hastings possesess inan eminent degree the peculiar qualities necessary to make a successful Director General of the Chicago Fair. He is broad-guage in every thing; he is keen in perception; heroic in execution, and always courteous. He is emphatically a man of the people with out a trace of the demagogery that so often deforms popular leaders, and with out the arrogance that so often deforms great executive abilities.

It would be a master stroke for Chicago to command the service of General Hastings as Director General of the coming Fair. In addition to securing as great executive abilities as can be obtained in any other direction, General Hastings would do more to enlist the great industrial and commercial interest of the Eastern States and cities in the Chicago Fair than any other man thought of, or likely to be thought of, for the position. His personal relations with the military, the industries, the press and the business energies of the Eastern States, would equip him to command the largest possible co-operation from this selection, and his pride no less than his duty would inspire him to stamp the highest measure of success en the Chicago World's Fair, if called to the high trust. He is in no sense a candidate for the position, and we are not advised of his willingness to accept it ; but if Chicago wants to have the most useful Director General within reach. General Hastings will be invited to the task.

A Chance for Company B.

The Second Brigade will hold its annual shoot at Indiana on Friday and Saturday, September 12 and 13. They will shoot over the range of Company F. Fifth Regiment, and the regiment making the highest score will receive the trophy. Each regiment will have a team of 10 men. The team of the Fifth Regiment will be under the charge of Lieut. J. J. Kerr ; Tenth Regiment, Lieut. Critchfield ; Fourteenth, Lieut. Caldwell ; Sixteenth, Lieut. Connelly, Eighteenth, Lieut. Pearson; Battery B, Sergeant Patterson ; Sheridan Troop, Lieut. Fleck. The score made will decide who will compose the brigade team to shoot with the Division at Mt. Gretna, Pa., September 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Address by Numbers.

It is now almost two months since the free delivery has been in vogue in Bellefonte and yet there is very little of the mail matter that comes addressed to numbers. This is an important factor to insure prompt delivery and every person when they write a letter should request that the answer be addressed to the number and street in which they live. It is extremely difficult to deliver mail when the carrier does not know where a person lives and to find him or her is obliged to make repeated inquiries. Besides all this it takes up time and the probabilities are the letter may lay in the post office a couple days until the person is found. Hence it is easy to see the necessity of addressing by numbers at all times.

—The game of base ball on Saturday between the Annie Rooneys and a picked nine resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 10 to 2. Only six innings were played. McGinley and Twitmire composed the battery of the Annie Rooneys and Woodcock and a Williamsport young man for the picked nine. It was a well played game but the battery of the latter was too strong for the Annies.

IN THE HALL OF JUSTICE.

Numerous Petty Cases But None of Much Importance Yet Heard.

The business before the court this week thus far has been simply the disposing of what might be termed very petty cases. There have been more assault and battery cases before this session of court than at any two previous sessions for years. And the worst part of it is, they are all more or less insignificant and seem to have been brought more through a spirit of revenge or as a piece of spite work than as a means of obtaining justice. There must have been fully a dozen such cases and all put together would not have made one good, interesting trial. That is the way, to save time, they should have been disposed of, tried in a bunch and the costs evenly divided between all parties. So far on the list the following cases have been disposed of:

Commonwealth vs. Frank Randall and Joseph Burd, for malicious mischief. Settled.

Commonwealth vs. E J Swavely, for embezzlement. Settled.

Commonwealth vs. Annie Hockenbury, for larceny. Plead "not guilty" to indictment but when the case came to trial changed her plea to "guilty." Not sentenced.

Commonwealth vs. Joel Barner, for assault and battery. Tried, found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $25, costs of prosecution and to stand committed until the sentence was complied with.

Commonwealth vs. William Horner, for assault and battery. Settled.

Commonwealth vs. George Weld, for assault and battery. Tried, found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $20, costs of prosecution and to stand committed until the sentence was complied with.

Commonwealth vs. Martin Rusnak, for assault and battery. Tried but not found guilty and costs divided between defendant and plaintiff, Abe Robison.

Commonwealth vs. Daniel Robb, for assault and threats. Bill ignored by the grand jury and the costs put on the prosecutor, William Singer.

Commonwealth vs. B. P. Schwartz, for assault and battery. Tried found guilty but not yet sentenced.

Commonwealth vs. D C Lingle for assault and battery on Green Decker at Penns Valley campmeeting a couple Sundays ago. Plead guilty and entered into a $200 bond of recognizance to keep the peace toward Greene Decker.

Commonwealth vs. William Reed for furnishing liquor to minors and men of known intemperate habits. Plead guilty, but at this writing not sentenced.

Commonwealth vs. M. G. Ardrey, for desertion. Held in a bond of $300 recognizance for his appearance in court on the first Tuesday in October.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Watson. f. and b. Plead guilty and the court pronounced the usual sentence given in such cases.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. H Cronover, for larceny, the grand jury found a true bill.

In the case of Commonwealth vs. A B Lucas for embezzlement, the grand jury found a true bill.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs. A J Gorton, for assault and battery on complaint of Mrs. Elsie Hastings. Tried, but not found guilty and the county to pay costs.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs, A B Lucas, for larceny. The case went to trial first one this morning and when fairly commenced the court instructed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty and dismissed the case.

NOTES.

There is a larger attendance at this session of court than there has been for years.

A "little brown jug" setting at the feet of the District Attorney this morning looked bad in a court of justice.

The verdict in the case against A J Gorton seems to have given pretty general satisfaction.

The younger members of the Centre county bar are getting in their work this week, and they have shown considerable ability.

—Judge Furst came over from Bellefonte on Tuesday night. He said he came out to select a site for the new court house.—Philipsburg Ledger. You are only a little bit off, Williams. It was to select a site for the old one and to day, immediately upon the organization of the grand jury, Damit Payne, the only man from Philipsburg, put in a claim for the removal of the court house to that place and the claim was so astounding that all the members of the grand jury but two fainted, and those two were from Rush township, and the result was the motion passed the grand jury and now all that is wanting is simply to set the time and come over and get it, as Bertram Galbraith, who has tended it for two and a half score years, says he will never help take it over. He further says that you may have the court house but you must leave the cellar.

—We have thus far failed to make mention of the fact that W. F. Reber, Esq., the Centre county court reporter, has been engaged by the Democratic State Central committee as their chief stenographer for the coming campaign. Mr. Reber went to Philadelphia on Saturday a week to begin his duties in his new position,

Personal Pencilings.

Miss Blanche Swaney, of Clearfield, is visiting relatives in Bellefonte.

Miss Madge Caldwell of Tyrone, is visiting her many friends in Bellefonte.

Mr. George T. Bush spent Thursday night in Lock Haven, at a dance, he says.

Miss Bessie McCafferty, of this place is visiting her many friends in Snow Shoe.

Miss Marian Ager, of Lock Haven, is visiting at the residence of N. Bauer on Bishop street.

Mr, and Mrs. V. J. Bauer departed on Friday evening for a brief visit to Atlantic City.

Robert and Allen Sommerville, of Winburne, Clearfield county, are visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Mr. Peters, of near Unionville, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday and was a pleasant caller at this office.

Miss Elsie Weaver, who spent several weeks in Clearfield, arrived home on the 4.30 train on Saturday.

Mr. John G. Rider, of Gatesburg, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday and did not forget to call in an see us.

Mr. Peter Kelly, a representative of Johnston & Co. paper dealers in Harrisburg, was in Bellefonte on Friday.

Mr. T. J. Gates, cashier of the Blair County Banking Company, at Tyrone was in Bellefonte on Monday night.

Miss Mattie Cassidy, of Canton, Ohio, is visiting at the residence of her brother Mr. W. C. Cassidy, on East High street

Miss Tillie Lyon an accomplished young lady from Philadelphia is the guest of Miss Hilda Baum of this place.

Misses Jennie and Katie Powers, of this place, after spending several weeks in Altoona, returned home Wednesday, evening.

Miss Mamie H. Zeller, of Lock Haven, who has been visiting Miss Anna Mann, departed for her home on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Moore returned to her home near Lemont on Thursday after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. James McKee, of East Linn street.

Ex-Superintendent D. M. Wolf arrived in Bellefonte from Bedford on the 8.55 train on Friday night. He went to his home at Penn Hall to-day.

Mr. H. T. Lucas, of Howard, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday. Mr. Lucas is the new postmaster at that place and, from all accounts, he makes a good one.

Messrs. John Anderson, Sr., Frank Galbraith and Will Hillibish, after a delightful trip to Boston, New York, Atlantic City and other points of interest returned home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Jackson, of Berwick, Pa., are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. W. F. Reeder, in this place. Mr. Jackson is a very dignified looking gentleman and is associate judge of the county in which he resides.

Guido Carl Boecking, who has been sojourning among Bellefonte friends for the past ten days, returned home on Friday evening very much pleased, especially with the girls of our neighbor town. —Tyrone Herald. That is one thing Bellefonte can always do. Please young men and especially when the young ladies are concerned.

Miss Laura K. Hafer departed Friday for State College to make preliminary arrangements for entering that institution at the opening of the next session. Miss Laura will give special attention to the study of such branches as will enable her in the near future to enter a medical or dental college.

Mr. John A. Rupp, Centre county's efficient register, departed on the early train on Friday for a day in Philipsburg. John says that, although a candidate, his trip is purely one of business and has nothing whatever to do with politics. We guess, however, if a chance offers he will try to lay a couple rails on his fences.

Mr. Cyrus E. Woods, a member of the Philadelphia bar, registered at the Bush House on Monday. Mr. Woods is on the State list of Republican speakers for the coming campaign, and his selection by the committee shows good judgment as Mr. Woods is a first class speaker and a convincing talker. Mr. Woods was on his way to Boalsburg to visit his mother.

MARRIED.

WHITMER—LUTZ.—At the residence of Harry Lutz, Bellefonte, Pa., on August 21st, 1890, by Rev. Miles O. Noll, Mr. Charles Whitmer and Miss Sallie Lutz, both of Bellefonte.

WHITE—FOSTER.—In the Presbyterian chapel, State College, August 20th, 1890, by Rev. Hamill, D. D., assisted by Rev. White, Mr. William Fullerton White, of Omaha, Nebraska, to Miss Helen G. B. Foster, daughter of Mr. John S. Foster of State College.

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

FOR GOVERNOR,
GEORGE WALLACE DELAMATER
Crawford County.

FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
LOUIS A WATRES,
Of Lackawana County.

FOR SECRETARY OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS,
THOMAS J. STEWART,
Of Montgomery County.

PENNA. R. R. VS. BELLEFONTE.

The Home Team Done Up to the Tune of 13 to 4.

For the past month everybody had been eagerly awaiting the time when the P. R. R. base ball club would visit Bellefonte and cross bats with the home team. The grounds had been fixed up and all necessary preparations made. On Monday morning the visiting club came all smiling and confident over recent victories.

In the afternoon by the time the game was called at 3 o'clock fully fifteen hundred people were assembled on the grounds. The P. R. Rs. were first at the bat. Ellenberger and Miller constituted the battery for the home team and Denney and Heller for the visiting nine. Ellenberger put in some of his hot balls and the first two men at the bat were put out before reaching first base. Schurr was next at the bat and he knocked a regular sky-scraper but only made first base. Then the luck turned. Miller muffed almost every ball that passed the bat and when the side was finally put out it had four runs scored in its favor.

The home club was lacking in heavy batters but, notwithstanding, they managed to score three runs the first inning. If Fahnestock had then been put behind the bat the result would have been ar different, for it was during the second and third innings that Miller done his worst playing and the P. R. R's piled up run after run. At the beginning of the fourth inning Fahnestock went behind the bat after which the visiting team made only three runs.

During the entire game there was some passably good playing done but very few brilliant plays. Quite a number of fielders were taken on the fly and quite a number were muffed. The Bellefonters made the only brilliant plays that were made. The visiting team were all heavy batters and that is where they had the home team at a disadvantage, Notwithstanding the result, however it was an interesting game. The full score at the close of the game stood as follows.

PENNA R. R.	R.	L. B.	S. H.	P. O.	A.	E.
Lacy, r f	1	3	0	0	0	1
Heller, c	0	0	1	13	4	0
Schurr, 1b	2	0	0	8	0	0
Clymer, s s	2	1	0	1	1	1
Winters, 2b	2	4	0	0	2	0
Hilderbiddle, c f	3	3	0	0	1	0
Dickie, 3b	0	2	1	3	1	1
Denney, p	2	1	0	1	1	0
Kyle, c f	1	0	0	0	1	0
Total	13	14	2	*26	11	3

BELLEFONTE	R.	L. B.	S. H.	P. O.	A.	E.
Linn, 2b	1	3	0	5	3	0
Fahnestock, c & 3b	0	4	0	5	2	1
Atherton, 1s	1	1	0	11	1	1
Ellenberger, p	1	0	0	0	2	0
Woodcock, s s	0	0	0	1	3	2
Yeager, 3b & lf	0	0	0	1	0	0
McKnight, r & l f	0	0	0	1	1	0
Miller & Twitmire c & r f	0	0	0	1	0	2
Mattern, c f	1	0	0	2	0	0
Total	4	5	0	27	12	6

Summary—earned runs, P. R. R. 1; 2 base hits, Clymer and Linn; 3 base hits, Winters; home runs, Winters; bases stolen—P R R, 10, Bellefonte 3; double plays, Linn and Atherton; triple plays, Atherton and Woodcock; bases on called balls—P R R, 2, Bellefonte 2, hit by pitcher—P R R, 2; struck out by Denny 16, by Ellenberger 8; passed balls—P R R. 3, Bellefonte 3; time of game, 2.30; umpires, Morrison and Hughes.

*Atherton went out interfering with fielder.

Business in Court.

Court convened Monday morning with their Honors, President Judge Furst and Associate Judges Rhoads and Riley, on the bench. The four months that have elapsed since they last sat together on the bench does not seem to have wrought any changes in either and consequently they constitute about as good looking a court as can be found in the State. The business of this forenoon was all taken up hearing constable's reports, receiving writs, applications, etc. and properly disposing of the same Swearing in of the grand jury and instructing them as to their duty, and attending to all other preliminary business that generally comes up at the opening of a session of court, after which the court adjourned until afternoon when the real business before the court commenced.

—Lots of wet weather these times don't you think?

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE